City Planners Urge Board Confer Over School Sites

The City Planning Commission decided Tuesday night to ask the Board of Education to time its special election on a school building bond issue to allow the city's professional planning concern an opportunity to make recommendations for the sites of the new structures, rather than acquiring the land without reference to the overall "master plan" for the municipality.

Acting at the commission's instructions, Don Eckert, chairman, is scheduled to confer today with School Supt. Paul Blair or Harry McConville, president of the Board of Education, and propose an informal conference between the planning group and school authorities on Monday, June 29, to discuss the selection of sites.

THE commission made the decision last night in a meeting in Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office with Carroll V. Hill of Columbus, president of Carroll V. Hill Associates, the professional planning concern retained to draft a "master plan" for East Liverpool.

Hill recommended strongly that the Board of Education await advice from his concern on the school sites, rather than acquiring property as a result of its own individual investigation.

But if the planning concern begins its work in early July, as contemplated now, and concentrates initially on the so-called land use survey, it could not come up with a recommendation on school sites before late September or early October, he explained.

The commission's main purpose in seeking the conference with the school board will be to ask the board to delay, if possible, the date of a special election on a bond issue to finance the building program until the Hill concern has had an opportunity to make its survey and recommend sites.

BUT THE commission also took cognizance of the fact the school board probably will want to be able to announce the proposed sites for the schools in advance of the election date to give the public a concrete explanation of the program.

Hill told the commission if the special election is held in the last few days of September or the first few days of October there will be no time for his organization to make recommendations on sites.

The board is scheduled to place a $3,334,000 bond issue on the ballot to finance construction of a new senior high school and three elementary buildings. It has been promised an interest-free loan of $990,958 from the state, contingent upon approval of the bond issue.

Because of a time limit imposed by the state, school authorities cannot wait until the November general election to place the issue on the ballot.

"It would be advisable for the school board not to commit itself to sites at this juncture," Hill told the commission. "We would like to give the problem

Texas Pledges 56

Goldwater's Delegate Votes Boosted To 674

Gives Him 19 To Spare In GOP Bid

Senator Declares Job Not Done Yet; Fears 'Slippage'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate strength has soared to 674, according to an Associated Press survey. If he hangs on to that total, he will win the Republican presidential nomination with 19 votes to spare.

Fifty-six votes pledged Tuesday by Texas Republicans pushed the Arizona Senator over the top—the 655 mark needed to win the big prize at the Republican National Convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

But after winning in Texas, Goldwater said the job is not done yet. He said he still needs more delegates because of the danger of slippage from among the delegates now on his list.

Goldwater's Texas sweep had been expected, with none of the Lone Star delegates expressing a previous preference for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's newest challenger.

Scranton has picked up 44 delegates since he started his campaign last Friday with 84 first-ballot votes in his pocket. But only one, in Pennsylvania, is known to have been a delegate who previously supported Goldwater.

Seventeen of Scranton's new votes have come from state conventions in Maryland and Connecticut, the remainder from delegates who were uncommitted or favored Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who this week threw his support behind Scranton.

Since Scranton's entry into the race, five delegates said they no longer favor Goldwater, including the one in Pennsylvania. But his losses have been more than offset by gains among other delegates who previously listed themselves as uncommitted.

In addition, the Arizona senator has won fresh support at state conventions since Scranton's announcement.

With only Montana's 14 votes to be decided before the GOP convention begins, the AP survey of first-ballot votes based on primary election commitments, pledges, instructions or stated preference showed:

Goldwater	674
Scranton	128
Rockefeller	123
Henry Cabot Lodge	45
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	8
Favorite sons	92
Uncommitted	209

Scranton's Eying Two More States

Utah, Kentucky Added To Flying Quest For GOP Bid

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) —Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton today broadened his flying quest for Republican convention delegates to include Utah and Kentucky.

The 46-year-old candidate put Salt Lake City on his Thursday itinerary and Louisville on the Friday schedule.

The new scheduling came as the governor embarked today on another 1,500-mile safari for convention support in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

On the docket today were St. Louis, Mo. and Denver, Colo.

Scranton and his weary, but hard-driving staff, showed increased optimism they could overtake Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who leads The Associated Press poll of GOP convention delegates with 674 votes —more than enough to capture the nomination at San Francisco next month if all of the commitments to him hold up on the first ballot.

"I think the impetus of our campaign is better than we expected at this time," Scranton said Tuesday night after a meeting with Minnesota delegates.

Scranton said he expects to see "some shifts next week" in the alignment of national delegate strength.

The governor contacted 14 of Minnesota's 26 delegates Tuesday. Five of those who met with him previously indicated they favored Goldwater.

Scranton said the session "will lead to worthwhile results." However, he declined to specify any numbers.

The current Associated Press poll showed that Minnesota's 26-vote delegation broke down this way: Eight votes for favorite son Walter Judd, a former congressman; eight votes for Goldwater and 10 uncommitted.

Scranton's overnight visit to Minneapolis capped a day of long flying trips from Des Moines, Iowa, to Topeka, Kan., to Minneapolis.

The governor's day also included two death threats—one a letter sent to Scranton's office at the state capitol in Harrisburg; the other a telephone threat transmitted to a Minneapolis radio station.

Scranton scoffed at the threats as the work of an "utter fanatic." He added: "I'm not interested in fanatics."

Despite that, Minneapolis authorities clamped a tight security cordon around him.

The Utah and Kentucky trips were added to Scranton's itinerary after consultation between his aides and political leaders in the two states.

Scranton also is scheduled to give the keynote speech to the Massachusetts GOP convention Saturday afternoon.

Father Of 4 Victim

Autoist Killed Under Rig

A 28-year-old Monongahela autoist was killed instantly this morning about 6 in a collision with a rig approximately a mile south of Laughlins Corners on Route 168.

Pennsylvania State Police said Charles Hermann, a father of four, was traveling north when his late model Ford station wagon apparently veered left of center and ran beneath this tractor - trailer loaded with calcium chloride.

The trucker, James C. Bryan, 29, of New Castle, was not injured. The accident occurred directly in front of the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church. Mr. Hermann died of a compound skull fracture.

The station wagon rammed under the rig, pinning Mr. Hermann in the seat for over two hours before his body could be pried free. The truck overturned, spilling the 36,000 pounds of chemicals over the roadway.

Also spilled was a "goodly" quantity of dynamite sticks and caps which were in the station wagon. One of the state policemen commented, "It was a wonder we had anything left to investigate." There was no explanation why the dynamite did not go off although apparently it was the type that required electrical detonation.

The Hookstown volunteer fire department was called to standby when the wreckers pried the crushed car apart.

Mr. Hermann was a licensed dynamite blaster with the Valli Industries of Pittsburgh, and was on his way to Warren to work at the time.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police is investigating.

The Welch Funeral Home of Hookstown took the body to Monongahela.

2 Wellsville Departments' Hours Are Cut

Firemen, Filtration Employes Also Get $2.50 Overtime

Legislation reducing the work week of employes in two departments was adopted by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night, along with a measure establishing overtime pay for both for the remainder of the year.

The maximum number of hours for regular firemen and filtration plant employes is set at 168 hours every four-week period under the ordinance. Previously, the men were required to work 192 hours every four-week period.

The employes will work eight hours per day, five days a week for three weeks and eight hours a day for six days the fourth week.

Under the separate ordinance, Council established an overtime rate of $2.50 per hour for the firemen and filtration employes.

Council previously granted overtime pay for the remainder of the year to members of the police department. The other departments then requested a similar treatment and also asked for the reduced work week. City police already are on a 40-hour week.

Both pieces of legislation were adopted under suspension of rules.

In other business, Council received a petition containing about 25 names from residents along 9th St., complaining about no parking signs erected three weeks ago. The signs were ordered placed by Council on recommendation of the street and light committee A tavern owner said the parking ban was jeopardizing his business and a place to park the family cars.

The petition was referred to the committee.

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare said estimates have been prepared for the annual street repair program.

Center lines will be painted on city streets Saturday, he said. He asked if Council plans to make Commerce St. a one-

June Turns B-r-r-r- But Warmup's Due

The June weather turned like autumn this morning but the Ohio weatherman said the unseasonable chill is at end for a couple of days with a warmup scheduled by Thursday.

The mercury dropped to a cool 45 at 6 a.m. downtown then fell another degree as the aftermath of the cool front that moved in after Monday's storms.

Today's high may range into the mid-70's and tonight's low will be 55 to 60 degrees. Scattered showers may accompany tomorrow's warming trend. Temperatures are due to remain near normal through Friday then turn sharply colder by Saturday, moderating again Sunday and Monday.

Dixie Fight Over Rights Nearing End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators resume the marathon civil rights battle today amid indications that the Southern fight on the measure is nearing an end.

In a 13-hour session Tuesday running until midnight, the Senate broke all records in the memory of Capitol Hill veterans by taking 34 roll-call votes, 33 of them to knock down amendments to the bill.

More of the same was in prospect today but leaders were cautiously confident that the Dixie contingent would offer only about 20 more amendments.

If this proves to be correct, they said, the Senate will not run so late tonight, and Thursday will be wholly devoted to a last round of speeches on the measure, mostly from its foes.

This would mean the final vote to pass the measure and send it back to the House in revised form would come on Friday, possibly early in the day.

The biggest final hurdle is Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who already has offered 20 amendments unsuccessfuly and told a reporter he may bring in 16 more.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who has called up 23 amendments, said he might have a few more.

There were clear signs of a split in Southern ranks on the strategy to be followed.

Several said privately they saw no purpose in offering a wholesale number of amendments, many of them exceedingly minor, only to have them swamped by overwhelming votes. They said they planned to use their remaining time for speeches against the bill in the final passage debate.

Trailer Flips And Spills Oil Onto Dresden

Tandem Rig Upsets As Driver Attempts Turn Off Freeway

A thick cascade of several thousand gallons of heavy industrial - type oil spilled over outer Dresden Ave. and adjoining private property Tuesday night when a tanker - type trailer flipped over as the driver of a tractor rig made a turn off the Freeway to head north on old Route 30, police reported.

John J. Joseph, 37, of Bryan escaped unhurt in the mishap at 7:40 on Dresden Ave. about 25 feet off the Freeway, police reported. He was driving a rig owned by Matlack, Inc., of Findlay, towing two tandem tankers loaded with the heavy oil, officers said.

In addition to covering the pavement of Dresden Ave., the oil spread onto parking lots at three adjoining business establishments — Dan McDonald's Antique Shop, the Roma Cafe and the Loblaw, Inc., Supermarket, police said.

Three firemen responded with a pumper and a squad car because the original report said erroneously that the rig was on fire. Unable to flush away the heavy muck, firemen notified the street department, which spread sand on the pavement.

Firemen said one-way traffic was maintained around the site until the trailer was removed. Asst. Chief Alfred VanDyne was in charge of the fire crew.

Patrolman Paul Blevins investigated. Joseph told the officer he was driving north on the Freeway at "a very mod-

Wellsville Council Rejects Mayor's $585 Legal Bill

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night turned down a bill for $585 presented previously by Mayor William Daugherty for hiring legal counsel for the administration during the hearing on the dismissal of Police Chief John Hephner.

The bill was presented in May and referred to the claims committee. It was considered June 2, but tabled. The claims committee recommended it be refused.

The claims committee includes Councilmen Walter Henthorne, Nunzio Lombardozzi and Aguin Bowling. Henthorne moved and Lombardozzi seconded that the bill be returned to the mayor.

Henthorne, Lombardozzi, Bowling and Councilman Meryle Kenney voted "yes" while Councilman Dwight MacLean voted "no." Councilmen Paul Todd and William Stoddard abstained. Before the roll call, Todd commented he had "not made up his mind."

The bill was from Atty. Jack Cohen and Atty. James Allison of East Palestine, who were retained by the mayor after Solicitor William Bush was hospitalized.

Hephner's appeal for removal from office was held before the Civil Service Commission, which ordered him reinstated.

Council apparently based its action on a state code that requires the mayor to obtain permission from the legislative body before hiring counsel.

Bush said Council is not legally bound to pay the fee but said previously it should be considered "on a moral basis."

Earlier in the meeting, a letter was read from Faternal Order of Police Lodge 11 asking Council to reject the bill.

It stated "Mayor Daugherty has asked you to pay the legal fees in his support of Robert Logan's affidavit against Chief

Fire, Flood Peril Quake-Torn City

NIIGATA, Japan (AP)—Battered and broken by one of the strongest Japanese earthquakes of modern times, Niigata was menaced today by fire and flood.

Police removed 7,350 persons, including 2,000 hospital patients, from the vicinity of petroleum tanks blazing along the waterfront of this big port on the northwest coast, the center of Japan's petroleum industry.

Workers tore down 300 flimsy houses in the path of the fire, but the flames inched toward a hydrogen tank 90 feet away, raising fears of a gigantic explosion.

Also threatened was a tank of gasoline additive that would loose poisonous fumes over the crippled city of 340,000 if it went up.

Ninety oil storage tanks on the devastated waterfront had caught fire. U.S. Air Force and Japanese planes and helicopters flew fire-dousing foam to Niigata airport.

Much of Niigata is land reclaimed from the sea, and in the wake of Tuesday's quake a large area began to sink. Flood waters spread into a third of the city. By midafternoon today they ranged from ankle deep to waist high.

The rolling earthquake, Japan's worst since 1923, spread destruction over 11 prefectures with a population of nearly 17 million spread over 150 miles of Japan's northwest coast. The confirmed casualty toll was surprisingly low, however.

The national police reported 24 dead, 10 missing and 282 injured, many seriously.

Bullet-Proof Limousine Ready For Johnson's Use

CLEVELAND (AP)—A bullet-proof limousine was at President Johnson's disposal today for his brief appearance here—the first time he has used such a vehicle.

The chief executive was scheduled to land at Cleveland Hopkins Airport at noon, then fly by helicopter to Edgewater Park.

The limousine was part of the security preparations for the President's appearance at the International Convention of the Communication Workers of America.

The armor-plated car, sent here from Detroit, where the modifications were made, has a thick laminated glass cover over the rear part of the hood. CWA officials said it was being used in a motorcade from Edgewater Park on the near west side to Public Hall downtown.

More than 300 policemen plus extra Secret Service agents from Chicago and Detroit were assigned to guard the President.

U.S. Economy Rosy, Various Reports Show

Jobs, Pay, Profits, Production Up And Labor Issues Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The capital was abloom today with rosy reports on the nation's economy.

Jobs, personal income, manufacturing profits and production were up, and labor disputes down.

"Our economic prognosis is one of continued growth," declared President Johnson after a look at some of the figures and no doubt pleased at the prospect of having prosperity in an election year.

These were the findings by the various agencies Tuesday after adding up and comparing percentages:

—The Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission reported the profits of manufacturing corporations were 27 per cent higher in the first three months of this year than last.

Profits after taxes, the report added, were $5.12 billion, compared to $4.2 billion in the first quarter of 1963.

—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said personal income rose to a seasonally adjusted rate of almost $485 billion in May, $25 billion above May 1963.

All was not cheers here, however, for the $1.25-billion gain was only slightly more than half of the April advance.

—The Federal Reserve Board reported that industrial production increased in May for the ninth consecutive month. Its index inched up from 129.6 in April to 130.3—meaning the output of factories, mines and utilities is 30.3 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average, used as a base figure of 100.

Goldwater Indicates No Blast At Scranton

WASHINGTON (AP)— Front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater has indicated he plans no campaign attack on his newly declared rival for the Republican presidential nomination, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

House Clears Funds For 2 River Projects

The House Tuesday passed a $4,325,969,200 public works appropriations bill that has funds earmarked for two district Ohio River projects. The legislation now goes to the Senate.

Ohio projects include $25,000 for planning for flood prevention at Empire, and $7,539,000 for completion of the Pike Island lock and dam at Yorkville during the next fiscal year.

The sum of $4,100,000 is allocated for the West Branch Reservoir on the Mahoning River, and $25,000 for planning for Crab Creek flood control, both in the Youngstown area.

Notices Given 5 For Tax Cases Planned June 24

Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor has served summonses on five East Liverpool residents, instructing them to appear in Municipal Court Wednesday, June 24, on charges of violation of the city income tax ordinance.

The notices were issued on the basis of charges signed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson accusing each defendant of two violations — failure to file a final return on 1963 earnings and failure to make an estimate of 1964 income.

The defendants are: Ernest Bell, 517 Virginia Ave.; Everett Watson, 515 E. 6th St.; Jack Menough, 801 W. 9th St.; William Adams, 507 Elm St., and Herbert T. Dorsey, 946 Lisbon St.

Wilkinson filed a total of 10 affidavits. One was withdrawn after the defendant settled. Four of the summonses remain to be served, but the bailiff said he could not locate two of the defendants at the addresses given for them by the tax office.

Wilkinson filed the charges Thursday. However, the court does not make public the names of the defendants until after the summonses have been served.

GOP Conservatism

One section of Gov. William W. Scranton's declaration of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination will be read and reread by those who think he made up his mind too late.

It is the section in which he refers to all other Republican candidates throughout the nation. Gov. Scranton said:

"Our party is not about to forget that the first great act of a great American president is to get elected. Nor are we about to forget our candidates for the U.S. Senate, for the House of Representatives, for the governors' chairs, for the state legislatures and for the local office.

"Abraham Lincoln would cry out in pain if we sold out our principles, but he would laugh out with scorn if we threw away an election. Mr. Lincoln saved the Union, but he used his sagacity as a political leader to do it. As a political leader he would applaud the quality of candidates on every level of government with which our party is blessed this year.

And caring a great deal about the unity of the Republican party — which he knew was built from the precinct up — Mr. Lincoln might remind us today not to throw away those fine candidates. He knew — as all of you know — that in a presidential year the candidate at the top of the ticket can help those below . . . or he can doom them to undeserved defeat."

THESE ARE significant passages. They deal with a problem in 1964 politics.

Sen. Goldwater at the head of the Republican ticket would constitute a problem for many candidiates who do not share his coloration in the political spectrum.

If he lost and carried down to defeat with him a considerable number of other Republican candidates, the party would sustain a critical loss of strength.

If he won but was unable to carry local candidates with him because of local and regional circumstances, the party would suffer.

WE BELIEVE in the days ahead this passage in the Scranton speech will be given extra-special attention.

It could signify the threat of a split in the Republican party, something unheard of since the leadership of a Progressive party by Theodore Roosevelt in the election of 1912—a move that gave the presidency to Woodrow Wilson while preserving a Republican image of concern for rank-and-file voters and party candidates.

The split was of the deepest historic significance—and still is. It was the beginning of a success of battles between Republican factions over whether or not to preserve the progressive tradition.

Herbert Hoover was nominated in 1928 over conservative opposition. In 1936, Alfred M. Landon, a former Bull-Mooser, was given the nomination. Wendell Willkie, Thomas Dewey and finally Dwight D. Eisenhower followed—all representing the progressive element of the Republican party.

The Long Tradition

The second annual awards dinner of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation finds it providing more than twice the scholarship money to over twice the number of students given aid at the 1963 banquet.

Those individuals, organizations, businesses and industries which have supported the annual drive and those men and women who served in the campaign deserve a special commendation for their part in making the Foundation program not only work but to grow.

It has been a long American tradition that the youth of the nation deserve an education, for it is upon them that the future of the Republic rests.

However, it is an even older and deeper concern that young people of limited finances but with sufficient promise be given the opportunity to learn, to advance themselves and subsequently to aid others.

Writer James Barrie declared in Great Britain in 1922, "Mighty are the Universities of Scotland, and they will prevail. But . . never forget that they are not four, but five. The greatest of them is the poor, proud homes many come out of, which said so long ago: 'There shall be education in this land.' "

This is the hope of the Foundation and the people in the seven Tri-State District school districts who, as a result of energy and their contributions, can look proudly at tonight's award recipients, and echo the words of Barrie, Jefferson and others down through the years, "There shall be education in this land."

New Look At Leisure

If they haven't done so already, members of the Hancock County Planning Commission might take note of an opinion expressed at last week's Youth Conservation Camp at Tomlinson Run State Park.

Of interest was a panel discussion on the question, "What outdoor recreation facilities would youth like to see made available to them in the county?"

Five boys and girls concluded the northern area of the county needs a swimming pool, and the whole county should have an outdoor winter sport program. But their first concern, as campers, was the need for a riding stable, with trails and instructors.

It is not difficult to understand the desire for a swimming pool for the Chester-Newell district. The nearest is at Tomlinson State Park near Pughtown or in East Liverpool's Thompson Park.

At best, there are only a few riding stables anywhere in the whole Tri-State District, although Hancock has a beautiful race track.

What was more intriguing, however, was the suggestion for a winter sports program. Clearly this is a project which should be given as much consideration by the planners as facilities for swimming, golf, baseball, horseback riding or other recreation.

A ski slope, ice skating rink or sledding has appealed to many as much as bouncing a saddle, lofting a nine-iron shot, flipping off a high dive board or whacking an infield grounder.

Judging by the lack of facilities, the ski buffs and ice skaters of the area have been overlooked.

With the growing amount of leisure time and increased interest in winter and summer sports locally, and with the potential attraction for tourists which recreation offers, planners in Hancock and other counties in the district should turn attention anew on all aspects of their recreation programs.

Don't Do It

By Truman Twill

A half-incredulous rumor in this department that women in America were headed for a major break-through into all-out nudity has crystallized into actuality.

It is happening.

Suppliers are selling buyers bathing suits with no tops and dresses that conceal nothing above the waist for any observer with enough vision to penetrate one layer of gauze.

The thing that wasn't supposed to happen for years to come is happening now. Even though most of us ordinary citizens won't see the result, not being members of the jet-set, we'll be seeing pictures in the slicks. Eventually it will be part of the everyday street scene.

An era is dawning in the republic — and it's enough to make a man shudder.

Instead of separating the men from the boys high fashion is going to separate the women from the girls. It is not a happy prospect.

IT BOILS down in the last analysis to an issue in philosophy.

One school of philosophical thought holds that everything in life is real and earnest and should be faced with both eyes open — head-on, four-square, resolutely.

Members of this school always talk about facing facts and coming to grips with things. They want to do away with sugar-coating. They revile dreams and romanticists who live in a dream world.

To these people there is no mystique, no mystery. They want all the bare facts. Yes sir, that is what they want. Bare facts and unvarnished truths.

The opposing school holds that life becomes bearable only through mystique and mystery, that cold, hard facts need to be gussied up to make them tolerable and it is not necessarily adherence to the truth to call a spade an unspeakable, unprintable shovel.

Members of this school believe in pink panties on the gripping end of lamb chops, deodorants, makeup, background music, chivalry, toothbrushes, veils, scented soap and manners.

They are sticklers for folderol like shirts and ties, clean socks, laundered fingernails, tablecloths, candlelight, courtesy ruffles, bows, lace and clothing designed to make the human anatomy look better than it ordinarily is, which is something that had better be kept in reasonable obscurity.

THE SINGULAR fact about this romantic school the way its members realize that reality can stand prettying up, whereas so-called realists are romantic enough to think reality itself is romantic.

Designers hell-bent on taking the tops off women's clothing are misguided realists. Either that, or their families were so cheesy and abjectly underprivileged they could not afford the National Geographic Magazine, which disillusioned all the rest of us about what is going to happen if anything happens to the top of women's clothing.

Topless clothing has been the style among aborigines from the Year 1 — and what's good about it?

GOP Roulette

Communists To Enter Fall Elections

By Victor Riesel

Over at National Communist party headquarters at New York City, the political strategists are planning to plunge their organization into the fall elections in many cities. They are confident they can poll a total of over three quarters of a million votes. For the first time since 1940 they may even nominate a candidate for the presidency and attempt to make a showing for him with a write-in campaign.

Victor Riesel

All this enthusiasm is based on the strength revealed by one of their comrades in the California June 2 primary election in a minor race virtually overlooked by the nation. An avowed Communist candidate running for the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors from the Second District rolled up 33,576 votes. This was 13 per cent of the total cast.

This tally, nothing short of astounding, was won by William Cottle Taylor, a 54-year-old Negro party organizer who, I recall, once was chairman of the Maryland-District of Columbia Communist party district.

More startling is the fact that he ran in the Los Angeles district as an avowed Communist. He boasted openly and with enthusiasm that he was the party's spokesman in that region and never hid the fact that he was a paid functionary of the organization.

WHEN THE FINAL results on Taylor's race were in, I called the Communist party New York headquarters to inquire about their future political plans in view of their California success—and of the Supreme Court decision June 8 which freed the party from having to register with the government as an internationally controlled Communist action group.

I was not exactly received with enthusiasm when I asked to speak to party leader Gus Hall. He was out, they said. Instead, I was shunted to party publicist and image maker, Arnold Johnson. Several times he started to say something, but then abruptly said he would tell me nothing. Fine—the feeling is mutual.

However, even without being taken into the party's confidence, it's possible to report that its officials are raising a political war chest. They reckon that if they can get well over 33,000 votes in just one section of Los Angeles for a frankly announced Communist candidate, they can poll a strong vote in San Francisco, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis, Philadelphia and New York.

GUS HALL and his national board have been discussing the number of strategic districts to hit now that the Soviets appear on the record to have "thawed" the cold war.

Party leaders also are elated by an apparent trend in many Western nations to view local Communists as reformers. There seems to be a swing back to the "popular front" era of the '30s.

Evidence of this attitude easily can be seen in the recent British elections. There the party, which never has had more than 60,000 members, had riproaring success at the polls. Though the Communist party now has only 32,500 members in the British Isles, its candidates polled more than 200,000 votes in these local elections. The party actually elected 24 councillors in several cities and missed out electing six others by less than 100 votes in each district.

WITH THE LOS ANGELES and British polls in mind, the American Communist party leaders are preparing to call a national convention either in New York or Chicago to nominate a national ticket for the first time in many years. They only had been waiting for the Supreme Court to indicate that they need not register as a foreign controlled group. This decision came down on June 8.

The party chiefs immediately went into a huddle on political action. They decided to attempt to make a showing for their own candidates so they could convince some left wing political figures that their public support is not the kiss of death.

Then in '66 they hope to back some of these non-affiliated pro-Communist personalities for office. They especially have their eye on the congressional elections.

If they can get a front man into the House of Representatives, as once they had, they will have developed a terrific propaganda mechanism.

What could be better than an American congressman to boost the prestige of pro-Soviet rallies and so-called "peace" conferences across the United States—and across the world.

Development of such a front-runner is their immediate goal.

The United States' oldest continuous seagoing service is the Coast Guard, which traces its history back to 1790 when the first Congress authorized the construction of 10 vessels for the collection of revenue. Known first as the Revenue Marine, and later as the Revenue Cutter Service, the Coast Guard received its present name in 1915 under an act of Congress combining the Revenue Cutter Service with the Life-Saving Service.

More Rights Hurdles

By David Lawrence

Methods Studied To Jam Bill Through

Just when will a civil rights bill finally be passed? Inquiries on Capitol Hill bring a variety of responses. The country has been told that when cloture—cutting off debate—was voted in the Senate the other day, this not only assured the early passage of the bill by the Senate but meant its enactment into law before the Republican convention opens on July 13 at San Francisco.

David Lawrence

There still are many obstacles in the way, and lots of things can happen to delay final enactment until after the Republican convention in August. About the only way that any haste will be made is by the "steamroller" method. This means not only imposing "gag" rules in the House of Representatives but preventing the members there from actually giving any consideration to the wisdom of the changes made in the Senate.

In fact, the basic principles of the whole legislative process are about to be ignored just to meet the political exigencies arising out of the highly controversial civil rights legislation.

Theoretically, a bill of such major importance which has been materially changed in the Senate ought to be debated thoroughly by members of the House. At least they should be given time to study the exact effect of the changes.

BUT SO GREAT is the desire to jam the measure through the House, in precisely the form it is finally agreed upon in the Senate, that the parliamentary maneuvers being discussed relate, not to the opportunities for consideration by the House, but to the best way to avoid any further changes by the House.

In effect, the House of Representatives now is supposed to accept the role of a rubber-stamp legislature and adopt whatever the senators have decreed. Yet the measure has been materially changed since it first passed the House of Representatives.

Usually, when a bill comes over from the Senate, the House manager of the bill asks unanimous agreement of the House that it be sent to conference, but a single objection can upset this procedure. When that occurs, the bill automatically goes to the House Rules Committee, which happens to be presided over today by a chairman who is not anxious to hasten the measure through to passage and might want hearings on the amendments. If the measure did go to conference, it is feared that changes might be made to meet the viewpoint of the House members. All this the Johnson administration and the civil rights leaders in Congress wish to avoid, because they fear it will mean delays.

THE LATEST suggestion is to apply the device which President Johnson persuaded the House leaders to use when he was able to jam through the wheat-and-cotton bill. It is called the "one-shot" method.

The Senate farm bill was sent to the House floor with a rule providing that a vote was to be taken after an hour's debate and that the members then would vote only on acceptance or rejection of all the Senate's changes.

Since there is a majority assured in the House for the civil rights bill, this presumably would mean that the measure would be sent to the White House after only about an hour's debate in the House, followed by a vote of formal acceptance of the Senate's changes.

There is another parliamentary device which is being discussed. It involves suspension of the rules so that, when the bill comes over from the Senate, it would be left on the speaker's table, and no step would be taken to send it either to the Rules Committee or to conference. By this procedure, the bill could be called up on one of the two days of the month when motions to suspend the rules are usually handled.

UNDER THESE circumstances, the bill doesn't have to go to the Rules Committee, where it could be held up. The control over suspension of the rules is by the speaker himself. He schedules action for certain Mondays. Usually, there is a total of about 40 minutes' debate, and passage requires a two-thirds vote of the members present.

Inasmuch as the House bill was originally passed by more than two-thirds, the theory is that, even with the acceptance of the Senate changes, a two-thirds majority could again be attained. The Senate measure thus could be sent to the White House directly from the House floor without any changes and, of course, without consideration by any committee.

The big question is: When might this take place? The situation varies from day to day and about all that can be said with certainty is that ultimately a civil rights bill will be enacted into law. The exact day this summer is still anybody's guess.

Exiles' 'Big Lie'

By Barnard L. Collier

MIAMI — The rarest commodity in Cuban exile-ridden Miami these days is the truth.

But in wartime—and at least some exile are at "war" here—too much truth hurts and spreading lies is a virtue.

Exile leader Manuel Ray got caught recently in one of those "virtuous" lies. He vowed for a year that he would be fighting Fidel Castro inside Cuba by May 20 or die trying.

Alive and embarrassed to frustrated tears, he was instead captured by a British destroyer in a Bahamian key on June 1, his pledge unkept.

To make matters worse, his seven companions on the unfulfilled mission included two American photographers and a Cuban-born woman—hardly the kind of group that lends itself to a successful infiltration operation against a foe as powerful as Premier Castro.

THE IGNOBLE arrest of Ray (he and the others were fined $14 each for illegal entry by a Nassau magistrate) was greeted in Miami with gloomy suspicion and chortling glee, a normal reaction among the splintered exile groups.

The pro - Batistaites describe Ray's misadventure as a weekend party on Anguilla Key with "women and everything." Ray's supporters implied that there was a conspiracy between the U.S. and the British to pick the group up and pointed to the State Department admission that a Coast Guard plane helped run down exile anti-Castro plans.

The Ray incident is symptomatic of the confusion and cross-purposes rampant among the exiles, and it also spotlights the incredibly divisive effects of the Central Intelligence Agency's operations against the Castro regime.

Out of all the confusion, these points seem reasonably clear:

1. The situation inside Cuba is now still extremely tense, with Castro's militia remaining on alert and a brutal crackdown against any sign of anti-government activity. It was announced on June 6 that the regime had executed Cesar Dia Infante, international commerce director of Oriente Province—the eighth accused CIA agent to die before a firing squad within as many days.

2. The state of alert has taken thousands of men from their jobs in the fields and factories, a blow to the staggering Cuban economy.

3. Ray's scare campaign before the May 20 date damaged the morale of the Cuban militia, and if and when Ray does successfully infiltrate, may pay off for him.

THE ONE great point on the minus side is that those inside Cuba who felt they could depend on Ray's ability may now feel that he has proven himself inept and untrustworthy. If there were many Castro Cubans high on Ray's list of possible defectors, they might be having second thoughts.

The Cubans who know firsthand the difficulties of getting in and out of Cuba make it plain that Ray might well have encountered serious trouble on his infiltration attempt.

He was caught while waiting for a better time. Exile infiltrators have in the past bobbed around the Caribbean for as long as 23 weeks before the time was right for their landing.

20 Votes Lost By Nominee

Herman Laurine, the apparent nominee for a Democratic constable's post in Butler District over Patsy Cortez, incumbent, lost 20 votes in the recount of three additional precincts of Hancock County May 12 primary returns Tuesday night.

Laurine's margin was shaved to 64 votes. He had led by 84 votes after the official canvass.

County officials said Laurine was credited with 105 votes in Precinct 35 due to an error in the tally compiled by the poll workers. He actually received 85 votes, they said.

In precinct 33, Cortez gained two votes but this small gain was erased in the recount of Precinct 34 where Laurine gained two. The new totals of the candidates are 1,845 for Laurine, and 1,781 for Cortez.

Losing one vote in the recount of the three precincts was William C. Graham of Chester, the apparent victor over Alvin B. Clutter of Chester for the Democratic nomination as county commissioner. Graham's lead was cut from 45 votes to 44, and their new totals are 4,587 to 4,543.

Graham gained two and Clutter lost two votes in Precinct 33; Graham gained four and Clutter gained two in Precinct 34, and Graham lost four and Clutter gained three in Precinct 35, cutting Graham's lead by one vote.

The recount will continue tonight at 7:30 in the Courthouse.

Glenmoor Legion Receives Reports

Delegates and alternates to the 20th District convention at Canton gave reports at the meeting of Glenmoor American Legion Post 736 Monday.

Those attending were Ed Bowyer, commander; Robert Buckley, James Foutts and Russel Turner, who also represented the post as a color guard for the Flag Day parade Sunday.

William Wilson, second vice commander, gave a report on the installation banquet held June 6. The last Tuesday of each month was set for joint meetings of the executive committees of the post and auxiliary.

way street and if it plans to establish "no passing" the entire length of Main St. He said it would affect the marking of the lines.

Chief John Hephner said he would "do a lot of study" before establishing no passing the entire length of Main St., which is over three miles long.

Hephner said this "is a long way to travel behind someone who is driving slowly."

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi said a survey is nearly complete on the Commerce St. situation and a recommendation will be presented at the meeting July 7. It was indicated that the street will be made one-way.

A letter was received from the Columbiana County Board of Elections asking early submission of any city proposals.

Council discussed an additional half - mill levy for the floodwall maintenance and an additional half - mill for the maintenance of Springhill Cemetery. Action was delayed until the next meeting. Councilman Aguin Bowling said the flood wall levy needs to be increased. He said about $4,000 is needed to overhaul the flood pump motors.

A letter was received from the Pennsylvania Railroad advising that the Lisbon St. crossing will be resurfaced when the city does its work.

It was reported residents are being notified water will be turned off if their accounts are not settled on time.

A report was heard of a meeting concerning problems presented Council about the noise and traffic congestion in the area of the Shaffer Trucking Co. on Clark Ave. Apparently most of the problems have been settled.

Councilman Paul Todd, finance chairman, asked all members to attend a finance meeting Thursday night at 8 in the office of Auditor Edgar Davidson to discuss transfer of funds in various accounts.

Councilman Walter Henthorne commented that an advisory board is needed even though a City Planning Commission has been named.

Ed Pugh of Riverside Ave., member of the commission, reported on its actions to date. The commission was named a week ago.

He said the commission has attended a meeting of the Columbiana County Regional Planning group at Lisbon. He read correspondence in regards to the Appalachia program. Materials are being gathered and a meeting will be held with Rep. Clarence Wetzel on the Highlandtown Lake project, he said.

Pugh said the commission welcomes volunteers to serve on its various committees. He listed the names of several prominent residents who have said they will serve.

Henthorne reported the police department is without a cruiser. He said one is in the garage with a disabled motor and the other has no reverse gear in the transmission.

Chief Hephner said it will cost $980 to obtain a new motor for the 1962 cruiser, not counting new tires which are needed. He said the 1961 cruiser will be back in operation today. It has new tires, he said.

Bids have been received by the Board of Control on a new cruiser.

Three Youths Routed In Bid To Ignite Cross

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three teen-age boys who apparently were about to ignite a gauze-covered cross were routed by Robert Hastings, a Negro, from the front yard of his home Tuesday night.

Hastings, 38, said a four-foot cross was abandoned, and the youths tossed a half-empty five-gallon can of gasoline on the porch of the home. Hastings, father of six, moved his family onto the previously all-white street a month ago. Since then, he said, six windows have been shattered by rocks.

erate speed" and making a turn onto Dresden when the rear trailer flipped over. Mrs. Pearl Jones, 601½ N. Beaver St., Lisbon, a witness, agreed with Joseph's report. She said there was "no apparent reason" for the upset of the trailer.

The tractor and the first trailer remained upright. The trailer which upset came to a rest on its top, police said. A wrecker was called to tow it away. There was damage to the catwalk on the front trailer and the clearance lamps and rear fender of the trailer which overturned, police said.

Blevins said his investigation showed the upset may have resulted when the rear trailer's wheels hit a raised section of the berm.

considerable study, but we can't do that until we have more facts together."

Hill explained that the "master plan" will be projected 20 to 25 years into the future, "indicating expected growth, where it will take place and the additional services that will be required."

The plan also will recommend what priorities should be given to various community improvements it suggests, he added.

"It would have been fine if the plan had been started a year ago," he said. "We could have given the school people something much more definite."

Hill commented that the cost of transportation of pupils is one strong argument against locating schools on large tracts of grounds on the outskirts of a city.

"TRANSPORTATION is a recurring expense and it can become quite costly," he said. "The easy way (to pick a site) is to go out to the outskirts where you can get a large tract with a minimum of trouble."

Hill pointed out approval still is being awaited from the Urban Renewal Administration at Washington on an application from the city for the federal agency to assume a third of the $48,000 cost of the "master plan." However, he said the approval is anticipated by early July.

Assuming the approval is received at that time, the planning concern could go to work immediately and concentrate at first on its land use study—the part of the survey that would produce recommendation on school sites, he said.

Under that timetable, the firm would be able to make informed recommendations on school sites prior to the election if it's in late September or early October, he said.

HILL ALSO revealed that Daniel Ziegler of the company's Pittsburgh office will be directly in charge of preparation of East Liverpool's "master plan."

He said that "time should be allowed for the Planning Commission to assist the school board in obtaining proper sites" for the four new schools.

As the discussion of the school question closed, Mayor Hall, a member of the commission, made a motion for Eckert to attempt to arrange a discussion with the school authorities. He was seconded by George Steele.

As the session opened, Hill discussed a series of local committees that would be organized to make investigations and submit reports on various phases of the "master plan." He urged that the committees be comprised of persons familiar with the problems they were assigned to investigate.

THE STUDIES would cover such subjects as land use, highways, parks and recreation, financing capital improvements, the central business area and community services such as water sewers, refuse collection and fire protection, he said.

Hill also discussed a proposal for preparation of a monthly "news letter" by the commission by keeping "key individuals and groups in the community abreast of the activities" once preparation of the "master plan" is under way.

Also attending the session were Don McGillivary, secretary of the commission, Councilman James Cunningham and Don Baxter and Glenn Waight, members of the County Regional Planning Commission.

Mayor

Hephner. Solicitor Bush states there is no legal basis for this but a moral obligation does exist.

"The mayor has had a moral obligation to the citizens of this city to appoint a member to the police department since last June. He has been ordered to do so by Common Pleas Court but by one devious means or another he has not fulfilled the people's wishes on the bond levy kept in force by them since 1951.

"The mayor said the evidence was so overwhelming he had to remove the chief from office. The chief's vindication of these absurd charges should clearly show where the moral responsibility lies. Not on members of Council but with the mayor himself.

"Members of Lodge 11, FOP, and Associates Lodge 51 believe there is a moral obligation to pay Chief Hephner's legal fees also. If you pay one, you should pay the other and if you don't pay both, you shouldn't pay any."

It was signed by E. D. James, president, and R. E. Wellington, secretary. Both are patrolmen.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, has been acting mayor since Daugherty is out-of-town on vacation. She relinquished her chair to Todd, president pro-tem, according to the state code. She spoke from the audience and hit at groups of city employes "pressuring Council."

Mrs. Rahter commented it was "unethical" for city employes to take this action.

Mrs. Helen Welch of Main St. spoke in favor of Council paying the fees. She said the Civil Service Commission records show the city has hired counsel in the past. She said it is the city's bill, pointing out the attorneys were substitutes for the solicitor.

MaLean cited a case several years ago where the city spent $1,200 for additional legal counsel. Lombardozzi later pointed out that at the time, permission was obtained beforehand from City Council.

Audit Of Mayor's Books Is Continuing

The audit of Mayor William Daugherty's books at Wellsville is continuing by an examiner from the state auditor's office.

The audit started over a week ago. It was halted for a while and the examiner returned Tuesday morning. There is no indication when the check will be completed.

2 Clothes Drier Fires Reported By Firemen

The first was at 2:18 p.m. when lint ignited in a drier at the home of Charles Geon, 734 Lincoln Ave.

A plastic toy ignited in a drier at the home of George Hanlon, 131 W. 3rd St., at 2:32 p. m. In both instances the home was filled with smoke but there was no damage.

Firemen were called to Washington St. and Church Ln. at 9:25 a. m. yesterday to flush gasoline leaking from a parked auto owned by Robert Matthews of Negley R. D.

Eighteen attended a meeting of the Salineville Ladies Civic Club Tuesday night at the Hotel Wick at Lisbon.

Woodbine Employes Continue With Strike

Pickets continued to march today in front of the Woodbine Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co.'s plant on E. 4th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. and a spokesman for the 42 striking employes said no negotiations have been scheduled with management.

The picketing was started Tuesday morning by the workers, members of Local 1, International Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Dye House Workers. Albert Meranto of Youngstown, district chairman and business representative, said both sides talked separately yesterday with a federal mediator, but no progress was made. Sam Lombardo of Cleveland, president of the local, also was on the picket line today.

Management representatives declined to discuss the stoppage.

This will not be a usual Sunday, when Fathers are kept busy being a handyman in the home. No sir! That Sunday Father will be the King of the family instead of just a subject. This will be a day when everybody works but Father, who will spend his time opening up and enjoying his gifts.

We know Fathers deserve this tribute. Have you ever watched the expression on a Father's face while he is waiting for us to fill a prescription for a loved one who is very sick? We have, often. No one but a Father looks exactly that way.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Tulle lace ruffles, tier upon tier, formed the chapel train for the bell-wing bouffant skirt featuring a hoop. A queen's crown of crystals and pearls held her veil of imported illusion. She carried a prayer book, the gift of her god parents, with a cascade of sweetheart roses and carnations.

Miss Sady Novak, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Miss Beula Sterling and Miss Patty Fair were bridesmaids. Their gowns were alike, of orchid Chantilly lace, styled with a fitted bodice and scoop neckline, and the sheath skirt had a bouffant overskirt of unpressed pleats. Theater face veils were attached to matching rosettes with crystals and pearls for their head piece and they carried bouquets of roses and carnations.

Deborah Sue Bowman, flower girl, wore a pink ruffled dress and carried a basket of pink carnations and sweetheart roses.

Michael Klembara was best man and ushers were Billy Joe Kusior and Roger Faulk.

The bride's mother chose a gown of turquoise blue Chantilly lace with Navy blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige sheath dress with jacket and brown accessories. Their corsages were of pink carnations.

Some 150 attended the wedding breakfast which followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

A reception was held at 5 o'clock at St. George's Parish Hall here and Miss Kathy Wyning registered 200 guests from Wheeling, Hundred, W. Va., Wilmington, Del., Cleveland, Columbus, Canal Fulton, Stow, Leetonia, Salem, Youngstown, Lisbon and Columbiana.

Rotarians Hear Lower

State Has Option On Tract In Park

Taking the first step towards acquisition of privately - owned parcels of land in Beaver Creek State Park, the Ohio Division of Parks and Recreation has optioned an 80-acre tract at Sprucevale which contains a dwelling over a century old, Floyd Lower of Lisbon disclosed in addressing the Rotary Club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Offered for sale by Richard Taylor through the Mort Real Estate Agency, the property presently divides the state park from Gaston's Mill at Echo Dell to a point down Beaver Creek to the Calcutta-Clarkson Rd.

WHEN THE state exercises its option to purchase the Taylor property, it will add another large area to the scenic park. Mort said the transaction will probably be completed within the next month.

Acquiring the option is apparently the first step by the state parks division in using an appropriation of $106,000 towards purchase of additional land in Beaver Creek State Park.

There is roughly a mile of Beaver Creek running through the Taylor property, plus two of the old - type locks, and a remodeled brick home about 116 years old.

Lower is secretary of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council which is supervising restoration of Gaston's Mill at Echo Dell, upstream from the newly - optioned property.

THE COLUMBIANA County Historical Society is sponsoring the project of restoration of Philander Gaston's historic mill, and the cost has been estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000 Lower told the club.

Sponsors figure restoration of the towering millhouse alone will cost $12,000, and this part of the work is about two-thirds complete, Lower pointed out. He said about $4,000 to $5,000 is needed to finish this part of the job.

Plans also call for reconstruction of the old mill race, wheel and machinery, and a dam upstream in the creek.

"The restoration is being done under agreement with the state, and eventually the mill will be turned over to the state of maintenance," he said.

ALTHOUGH THE area is "unknown and underdeveloped," Lower said, there were several hundred thousand visitors to the park last year.

"Beaver Creek State Park would be a tremendous economic asset to the area as a tourist attraction," he declared. The Regional Planning Commission, he added, has a committee collecting data on possible fields of recreation for the park and will make recommendations to the state later.

He listed fishing, boating, hiking, horseback riding, swimming and picnicking as tentative diversions, and scenic views as one of the park's biggest assets.

Lower, retired county agricultural agent who is active in the mill restoration, traced the early history of Gaston's Mill and listed its various owners and operators.

Years ago, he said, farmers brought their grain to the grist mill for grinding into cornmeal and buckwheat flour. Customers gave one - eighth bushel to the operator for his work.

THE MILL has been powered by water, steam, gasoline and electricity, and was the last survivor of six mills on the stream from Elkton to Frederickstown.

Observing he has seen other such mills restored, Lower said a possible source of income would be the sale of ground cornmeal to park visitors.

Lower was introduced by Atty. Jackman S. Vodrey, who served as program chairman for his father, Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr., who was unable to attend. Alvin T. Babb, vice president, presided for Ralph A. Finley, president, who is vacationing.

Chester Begins Sale Of Driver Licenses

Sale of city driver's licenses for the 1964-65 fiscal year starting July 1 is under way at Chester City Hall.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, said every Chester resident who drives a vehicle must purchase the $2 city license, which is effective July 1 through midnight June 30, 1965.

The present licenses expire in only 13 more days, Cashdollar said, advising they are on sale each day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at City Hall

A total of 1,692 were sold last year, he reported.

In the Far East a thief reportedly used a strong-jawed Komodo dragon for housebreaking. He tied a rope around the dragon's neck, threw it over the wall and then climbed up the rope when he was sure that the dragon had a tight bite on something solid.

City Man, 38, Injured During Attack In Alley

A 38-year-old East Liverpool man told police he was injured early today when dragged into an alley and beaten as he walked on St. Clair Ave

Gerald Myler, 215 E. 3rd St., who went to police headquarters to report the assault about 3:40 a. m., was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the left ear lobe and a bruised right eye. He was taken to the hospital in a cruiser.

Myler told officers he was walking on St. Clair Ave. when a man suddenly accosted him, dragged him into an alley and assaulted him. He did not name the assailant, but said he had an argument with the man a few minutes earlier in a downtown tavern.

A's In Reverse, Take 5th Straight Under New Pilot; Tribe Outslugs Twins, 5-3

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that Mel McGhaa has gotten a rise out of the Kansas City Athletics, will he get a raise from Charles Finley?

McGaha, who succeeded Eddie Lopat as manager, has been on the job only five days, but in that time the Athletics have compiled a five-game winning streak after losing the first under their new field boss.

The surging A's stormed to within one game of ninth place in the American League Tuesday night, whipping Detroit 7-4 and 6-0.

The double victory came hours after Finley announced he had ripped up contracts of three players and given them raises. The Kansas City owner cited shortstop Wayne Causey and pitchers Orlando Pena and John Wyatt for "the outstanding job they have been doing."

If their jobs have been outstanding, McGaha's — based on Kansas City standards — has been amazing. When he assumed control of the Athletics last week, McGaha said he planned nothing drastic.

A five-game Athletics winning streak isn't drastic; it's downright shocking. The flurry marks the first time since last July Kansas City has won more than three in a row. At that time, the string also ran to five.

If the present streak is extended to six tonight in Detroit, Finley may take another look at McGaha's contract.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Chicago maintained its slim hold on first place by splitting with Baltimore, the White Sox winning the first 5-0 and losing the second 3-1.

New York outlasted Boston 7-5 after dropping a 6-5 decision, Cleveland outslugged Minnesota 5-3 and Los Angeles got by Washington 7-5 in 10 innings.

Bill Bryan propelled the Athletics to their second-game triumph, driving in five runs with two homers. He connected with one on in the fourth and with two on in the ninth. Ted Bowsfield, scattering eight hits, became the first pitcher to shut out the Tigers this season.

Kansas City scored six runs after two were out in the fourth inning of the opener. Pitcher Diego Segui sent three of the runs across with a bases-loaded double. He had a two-hitter until the ninth when the Tigers scored three times.

Bill Freehan, who homered in the fourth, singled home two runs in the inning.

Juan Pizarro limited the Orioles to three hits, all singles, in the first game. He received home run support from Pete Ward in the sixth and Floyd Robinson in the seventh. The victory was Pizarro's eighth against three defeats.

Steve Barber came back and checked the White Sox on four hits in the nightcap. Barber brought his record to 3-3, pitching his first complete game this season. He also drove in Baltimore's third run.

Joe Pepitone knocked in six runs in the Yankees' doubleheader, four in the second-game victory. Included was a two-run homer in the fifth. Tom Tresh batted in the other three runs, two on a homer in the seventh. Their hitting brought Whitey Ford his ninth straight triumph since losing on opening day.

Frank Malzone's two-run homer in the eighth inning won the opener for the Red Sox. He connected after Jim Bouton walked Dick Stuart. Ed Bressoud drove in two runs for Boston, one on a second-inning homer. Roger Maris homered in the eighth for New York.

Leon Wagner slammed an eighth-inning home run that broke up a see-saw battle between the Indians and the Twins. The Indians had taken leads on Bob Chance's two-run homer in the fourth and a bases-empty blast by Woodie Held in the seventh. Rich Rollins homered in the fifth and Frank Kostro in the eighth for Minnesota.

The Angels also won with a home run. Ed Kirkpatrick connected with one on in the 10th after relief pitcher Ron Kline committed an error with two out. John Kennedy homered for Washington.

Mike Smith Hurls No-Hitter In LL

Mike Smith is the latset to enter his name on the list of no - hitters pitched in the East Liverpool Little League.

Mighty Mike hurled Veteran Plate Glass to a 19-0 no-hit victory over Travelers Hotel. On his way to the victory, Smith fanned nine batters. He also helped out at the plate with a double and single while his teammates gave him solid backing with 12 hits.

Joe Walker slugged a home run for Vet Glass while Steve Davis came up with a triple and single and John Haney a double and single. Don Smith was the losing hurler for Travelers.

In other Little League action, Vernon Dell handed Golden Star a 7-2 setback. J. Cunningham led the winners' 10-hit attack with three singles while Fred Henderson collected a double and single. Kim Kemple the winning pitcher, fanned 10 batters while R. Eckles struck out 13 in a losing cause.

Jim Moore hurled a three hitter in the Medics, 6-2 win over McBurney's. Jim Parson led the winners with a pair of doubles while Bill Cox and Jerry Christian hit a double each for the losers.

Burbick's Nip Sevy's, 5-4, In Pony Loop

Burbick's protected a slim margin to edge Sevy's, 5-4, Tuesday in the Pony League.

Burbick's opened with a two-run first inning but Sevy's bounced back to score three in the second frame. A three-run third inning by Burbick's proved the difference.

Berhar received credit for the victory with Diddle the loser. Burbick's collected four hits while Sevy's showed four safeties including a home run by McKinnon.

Spahn Fails Against Dodgers, 5-1

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"If some of the young kids come through—like that young Warren Spahn—I feel we will have a good club."

Warren Spahn said it.

Warren Spahn isn't doing it.

The ace Milwaukee left-hander, oldest player in the majors at 43, showed his age again Tuesday night, failing for the sixth straight time to finish what he started and dropping a 5-1 decision to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And it just may be that after a major league career spanning 20 seasons, 691 games and 4,974 innings, the left arm that has been working effortlessly for so many years may finally be feeling the strain.

Spahn, who entered organized baseball with Bradford of the Pony League in 1940, showed no signs of slowing down last year as he posted a 23-7 record and hit the 20-victory circle for the 13th time. But the greatest left-hander in baseball history has been running into trouble this season.

Spahn has brought his career victory total to 355 with five triumphs this season but also has added five losses for 221 lifetime. Along with the mediocre 5-5 record goes an even more unimpressive 4.32 earned run average.

Spahn's latest loss was his first to the Dodgers in more than two years. He had won six in a row dating back to June 13, 1962. He was locked in a duel with Don Drysdale for seven innings. Then Willie Davis smacked a key two-run triple and it was all over.

Meanwhile, the National League - leading Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago Cubs 4-2 and moved one game in front of the San Francisco Giants, who lost to Cincinnati 9-4. Elsewhere, St Louis snapped a five-game losing streak by walloping Houston 7-1 and Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 2-1.

John Roseboro doubled home Tommy Davis for a 2-0 Dodger lead in the fourth, but the Braves closed the gap in the sixth on doubles by Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron.

Willie Davis then connected for his two-run triple in the seventh and wrapped up the three-run outburst against Spahn by scoring on a single by Maury Wills. Drysdale, bringing his record to 9-5, checked the Braves on four hits.

John Herrnstein homered for the Phillies, who scored the decisive run in the fourth on a double by Tony Gonzalez, an infield out and Bobby Wine's squeeze bunt.

The Cubs threatened to pull it out in the seventh with two runs in and two men on but John Callison raced to the wall in left center at Wrigley Field and made a leaping one-handed catch of Billy Williams' long drive.

Vada Pinson and Leo Cardenas hit two-run homers as the Reds built an 8-0 lead before the Giants finally scored against John Tsitouris in the seventh on Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer.

Pinson was the key man for the Reds, rapping a hit-and-run single in the first that set up a run, homering in the third and driving in another run with a single in the eighth.

Ken Boyer slammed a homer, triple double and single for the Cardinals, becoming the first National Leaguer to hit for the cycle this season. Boyer's four hits and three runs batted in led a 15-hit St. Louis attack in support of Curt Simmons.

Simmons, 7-5, allowed only four hits, losing his shutout when Rusty Staub homered for the Colts in the eighth.

Bob Veale started in place of the ailing Bob Friend for the Pirates, scattered nine hits, struck out 12 and drove in the winning run with a single in the second inning after Bill Mazeroski doubled.

Veale tied the Pirates' single-game strikeout mark for the second time this season. Babe Adams fanned 12 in 1909.

Wright Allows 1-Hit For Losers

Calhoun Has 1st No-Hitter Of Colt Season In 1-0 Win

Rick Calhoun received credit for a no - hitter, his team won but the crafty lefthander didn't receive credit for the victory.

Calhoun hurled seven innings of no - hit ball but under Colt League rules seven innings is all a pitcher is allowed one day. Mike Clutter came on in the eighth to pitch the last two innings as Central pushed a run across in the ninth to take home a 1-0 victory over South Side.

On his way to the no-hitter, Calhoun fanned five batters and walked one. The performance marked the first no - hitter of the Colt League season.

Bill Wright was equally as tough as he pitched seven innings and only gave up one hit while striking out nine batters. Verzella, who relieved Wright, was checked with the loss.

The winning run came on a walk, a hit, fielder's choice and a ground ball to deep shortstop which let in the winning run.

Clutter had two singles for the only hits of the game.

The contest was the first game in the third round, giving Central three points.

South Side took a forfeit victory in a game scheduled earlier in the day when the Lawyer's were unable to field a team.

Chester Owners Will Enter In Quarter-Horse Racing

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie DeLong of Chester have returned from Enid, Okla. where they watched the 18th running of the $60,000 Oklahoma Futurity.

While visiting in Oklahoma at the E.L. Baker Ranch they purchased a quarter horse colt which they plan to nominate for the 1965 Oklahoma Futurity with an estimated purse of $75,000 and the Raton Futurity with an estimated purse of $50,000 to be run in New Mexico.

Mrs. DeLong has a two-year-old running next week in the trials of the $7,500 Eastern Quarter Horse Racing Futurity to be held at the newly constructed quarter track at Norwalk, Ohio.

The training of these colts will be handled by E. L. Baker and DeLong.

Sam Snead has finished in the top ten 11 times, including four times as runner-up, in the U.S. Open golf championship.

Course For National Open May Give Aging Snead Edge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since Sam Snead buried his 100th tomato can full of money, people have been saying that "this is his last chance" to win the U.S. Open, the one golf title that has always got away.

That was many tomato cans ago.

Putt Fires 76 Total In Qualifying Round

Harold Putt, East Liverpool's lone entry in the Mid-America Junior Open at Mansfield, fired a 76 in the qualifying round and was to tee off early this morning in the championship flight. His opponent today was Jim Baske of Benton Harbor, Mich. who scored a one-under-par 71 Tuesday to win medalist honors yesterday.

Snead is in his 24th consecutive Open at the Congressional Country Club starting Thursday and there is one fellow in the field who says that this is the time that the 52-year-old slammer could break through at last.

Snead's booster is Jack Nicklaus, the 24-year-old Ohio Golden Bear, who rates high on the list of favorites, himself.

"This course gives Snead his best chance to win in many, many years," Nicklaus said. "It calls for long drives, but there is plenty of fairway so they don't all have to be straight.

"A good long-iron player will do well. And putting will not be as important as it is in some other tournaments, because many players in the field won't be reaching these long holes in two. When everybody is on in two, it's a putting contest.

"You put all that together and it pretty well describes Snead's game, doesn't it?"

Of course, it also describes Nicklaus' game, too. And Arnold Palmer's. And almost nobody else's.

Nicklaus and Palmer, as usual, are the main objects of attention among the field of 150 who start teeing off at 6:45 a.m. EST Thursday over the 7,053-yard Congressional.

The course is the longest ever used for the Open, but it is par 70

After another 18 holes Friday, the field is trimmed to the low 50 and ties. There are 36 holes on Saturday.

That's the day when the pressure in this biggest of all golf tournaments gets so great that you can almost cut a square foot of it right out of the air, and only the steel-nerved survive.

Twice in his long career, Snead has thrown the Open away when he had it won, and on several other occasions he might have won with a good round here and there.

Although the odds against a Snead victory are long, he has been producing consistent golf in practice. He had 70 Monday, and had three birdies on the front nine Tuesday before he hacked up the back side for a 73.

Nicklaus, the PGA champion who won the Open in 1962, scored 71 in practice Tuesday and had two straight birdies on the back nine.

Palmer, who won the Masters and wants the Open as the second leg on the pro grand slam, shot 75 Tuesday and said he was putting poorly — as he was before the Masters started.

Bribe Appeal Overruled By N. York Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Molinas, convicted basketball briber, had the sympathy of a New York State Supreme Court Appellate Division today, but no reduction of his 10-to-15-year prison term.

The court upheld Molinas' conviction Tuesday but added that it considered his sentence "unnecessarily excessive." The former Columbia University and professional star was found guilty in February 1963 of conspiracy, three counts of bribery and attempted subordination of perjury.

Molinas' appeal was overruled because the court said investigation showed the former player was "the prime planner and guiding force of this criminal operation which corrupted the players who participated and discredited the institutions which they attended."

Three other men also were involved in the case. Joseph Hacken, Joseph Green and Aaron Wagman received sentences ranging from three to eight years.

Dimancheff To Coach Canton's UFL Team

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Boris (Babe) Dimancheff, a one-time All - America who has held coaching jobs with professional and college football teams, is the new head coach of the Canton Bull Dogs of the United Football League.

The 41-year-old Dimancheff, who was named mentor of the Bull Dogs Tuesday, played professional football with the Chicago Cardinals and the Chicago Bears of the NFL and served as backfield coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Dallas Cowboys, also in the NFL. Last year he was assistant coach at Wake Forest College. He was an All-American at Purdue, where he was team captain in 1944.

Palmer Embarrassed; Didn't Have 65 Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millionaire Arnold Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner, was temporarily embarrassed Tuesday when he went out to practice for the National Open Tournament.

He didn't have 65 cents in his pocket to pay for a bucket of practice balls.

Failing to float a quick loan, Palmer turned to a large gallery and said:

"Anybody got change for a $100 bill?"

All he got was a loud guffaw.

Fisherman Fined

LISBON — Charles W. Phillips, 28, of Leetonia R. D. was fined $20 and costs Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for fishing in Guilford Lake without a license. He was cited by James Kelley, state game protector.

Quota Club Backs Program For Boys Industrial School

A resolution has been prepared by the Quota Club to be sent to all the clubs of Ohio and to be presented for action at the fall sessions of the Ohio legislature for improvement of conditions at the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

The decision to prepare a recommendation for a "crash program" followed the recent meeting of the club when Judge Louis Tobin spoke on the deplorable conditions at the institution. The resolution was prepared by Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner and Judge Tobin.

It refers to the fact that the Ohio Youth Commission, which became operative last fall, found 29 major shortcomings in the school.

The boys are classed by size only, a thousand boys are housed in the 100-year old institution built for 300, it has no doctor and only one psychiatrist one day per week, sleeping facilities are inadequate with 60 boys locked in a small room where physical and sexual abuses abound, less than 100 boys receive any kind of training and there is a total lack of any recreational facilities. Over 67 per cent of the boys return to the industrial school more than once, the resolution states.

With a total cost of less than $10 million, most of these deplorable conditions can be corrected. This would include building half a dozen camps to relieve congestion and facilitate rehabilitation.

Quota Clubs over the state plan to express their position to Gov. James Rhodes and each representative and senator of their individual districts to urge that this money is "immediately appropriated and a crash program instituted to correct a hundred years of neglect."

The groups will write the Ohio Youth Commission at Columbus for a copy of its report "so that the general public can know specifically those things that have made the school a blot on the state and made this the largest and worst industrial school in the world."

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

OHIO—Temperatures are expected to average near the seasonal normals for the next five days. Representative normals are Cleveland 79-58, Columbus 84-61, and Cincinnati 85-64. Rising temperatures Thursday and Friday turning sharply colder Saturday but moderating again Sunday and Monday. Rainfall will average three-quarters of an inch as showers Thursday and Friday and again next week.

Kaycees Set Dinner Event At Wellsville

Plans for a coverdish dinner and social were outlined at a meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night. It will be June 27 at 6:30 p. m. at the K. of C. home.

Sam Amato, chairman of the annual St. Rocco festival, said plans are progressing for the event Aug. 10-15. Chairmen will be announced later.

Amato is the newly - elected grand knight and will assume his duties July 1.

James McPeak, grand knight, conducted business. He displayed a large trophy presented him at the state K. of C. convention at Cincinnati for the council ranking 23rd in the state.

The six point program chairmen working under him on the program were Fred Morrow, general program chairman; Fred Baldasare, Catholic activity; Joseph Giuliani, council activity; Pete Olesky, fraternal activity; Amato, youth activity; Frank Roberts, membership, and John Cataldo, public relations. John Kozora is the district deputy.

It was reported new steps have been completed at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

The council will meet next Tuesday night.

1,800 Register For Library Club

About 1,800 students are registered for the summer reading club at the Carnegie Public Library, according to Mrs Hilda McEwen, assistant librarian, who heads the project.

The pupils are divided into two teams — Army and Navy— and students from the third team. Each book read is scored for the team.

Pupils reading 10 books will receive a certificate; 20 books, a certificate and a badge, and 30 books, certificate, badge and an invitation to a party.

The club began June 5 and will continue during the summer, closing when school resumes, Mrs. McEwen said.

All Entered Peacefully

Negro Enrollment Up At Ex-White Colleges

ATLANTA (AP) — The number of Negro students attending former white colleges and universities in the South has increased this summer — and all entered peacefully.

Most schools do not list students by race and that policy may become a factor in easing the integration problem in more-sensitive areas in the Deep South.

The Negroes go their way hardly noticed by white students. Some of the schools have had few or no Negroes in the past but their presence is attracting little general interest, an Associated Press survey shows.

Negroes are attending summer classes at the University of Mississippi and the University of Alabama — scenes of rioting during earlier integration attempts.

Three Negroes have started classes at Northeast Louisana State College without incident.

The University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa has three Negro coeds in summer classes. They include Vivian Malone, one of two Negro students who desegregated the university a year ago under federal court orders.

Others are Ruth Benella Lewis of Birmingham and Mrs. Velma Thompson of Tuscaloosa.

The campus hardly knows they are around. It was different when federalized National Guardsmen stood by while Gov. George Wallace made his unsuccessful stand in the school house door last June.

It is different, too, from the rioting which erupted at Tuscaloosa nearly nine years ago when Autherine Lucy became the first of her race to attend the university.

Violence erupted at Ole Miss in September 1962 when James H. Meredith was admitted under court orders. Two white men were killed and hundreds were injured.

Tea Service Shown

The silver tea service purchased with trading stamps donated by the women of the church was displayed.

A film, "Strange Gods of India," was shown by Mrs. Smith for the program, followed by a discussion.

Mrs. Gerald Carman, worship leader, included the poem, "In Hands Like Ours."

Next meeting is July 20 at the Morgan House.

New Meeting Slated In Aluminum Dispute

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Union and management officials planned another joint meeting today in an effort to settle a dispute which could shut down seven Aluminum Co. of America plants in five states including Ohio.

Federal mediator William Rose and officials of ALCOA and the Aluminum Workers International Union met for 2 ½ hours Tuesday discussing the dispute. They planned to study government proposals before resuming meetings today.

The threatened strike, in sympathy with a walkout at ALCOA's Massena, N.Y. plant, which began May 23, could idle 8,000 to 10,000 in the seven plants, including one at Chillicothe, Ohio.

Shock Or 'Wow'

Topless Swimsuits Introduced

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"It's—it's unbelievable," gasped shopowner Nasimo Sargis, groping for words. "There's no middle-of-the stream. It's either shock or 'wow!'"

That was Miss Sargis' reaction after she introduced topless swimsuits in San Francisco.

The first dozen suits were snapped up and another 14 ordered for immediate delivery she said.

"Mostly to men," said Miss Sargis, "for their wives. Or at least that's what they said."

Reaction of other San Franciscans to the weekend showing of the latest low in high fashion was immediate, and predictable.

"Nakedness," snapped a clergyman, "almost perversion."

The police department wondered aloud what it would do with the first bare bosomed lass to breach the beach.

Another downtown San Francisco shop placed the suits on sale Tuesday.

Held up by two narrow straps that cross in front and back, the suits were denounced by the clergy as an invitation to lust, a return to paganism, a corruptor of morals and "not very nice."

"Just two straps closer to the moral decay in America," declared the Rev. Jacob Belling of Oakland's Neighborhood Church.

What do the cops say?

"A touchy, legal subject," said Assistant Police Chief Alfred Arnaud. "Nudity isn't illegal unless it's lewd. This'll have to be settled when they show up on the beaches—and I guess they will."

Capt. Daniel W. Kelly, responsible for policing the city beaches, observed that when the first woman appears in the suit "the main police problem will be the riot that occurs. The size of the riot probably depends on how well she's endowed."

They'll be taboo at public pools however, city officials said.

U.S. Hits Report It Favors Union Of Cyprus And Greece

Today in Washington
By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says "there is no truth in published reports the United States favors Union of Cyprus with Greece.

A statement Tuesday by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who has just returned from an urgent peacekeeping mission to Greece and Turkey, said that the U.S. government is not supporting any specific solution for the Cyprus question.

"But the United States does feel, and what I did express in both capitals is that the solution is urgent," Ball added. "That solution should be found by agreement of the parties."

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took more than two weeks for the Boston postoffice to complete the more than two million "first day of issue" cancellations for the John F. Kennedy memorial postage stamp.

The Post Office Department said Tuesday that although the stamp went on sale May 29, cancellations were not completed until June 15.

The record of 2,003,096 cancellations surpassed the previous record of 1.6 million first-day cancellations of the New York World's Fair stamp issued on April 22.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six maverick Teamsters Union members are preparing to step up their efforts to recover union funds used to defend Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and other union officials involved in criminal trials.

Their attorney, Seymour Spelman, said he plans to add the names of three bonding companies within a few days to a federal court suit already filed against Hoffa and 18 other officials to recover the legal fees.

The amount involved is reported to be $1 million or more.

The union has so far resisted efforts by Spelman, the Labor Department and the Justice Department to divulge how much has been spent to defend Hoffa in a long series of federal trials, including his conviction—now being appealed—on a jury tampering charge.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has introduced a bill to strip federal courts of jurisdiction in reapportionment cases involving the state legislatures.

Thurmond introduced his bill Tuesday, a day after the Supreme Court ruled that both houses of state legislatures must be based on population only.

20-Year-Old Plane To Wing On Round-Trip To Capital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—She comes from a good family, she's given a lift to most of Ohio's recent governors and today—as she wings to Washington and back—she reaches the age of 20.

She's "Zero-Six-One" (short for identification number 0-316-061), one of nearly 12,000 dependable, adaptable CD3 transport planes built before, during and right after World War II.

Zero-Six-One still was wearing some World War II camouflage paint when she was entrusted to the Ohio Air National Guard in 1948, four years after her career began June 17, 1944.

Much of her reputation has come from hauling governors on various official rounds. But she's also flown mercy and rescue missions, broken in pilots and supported a variety of military efforts—in all kinds of weather—for 8,568 hours.

She's suffered such indignities as getting a bullet (accidental) through the propeller, being stuck in the mud, hit by lightning, frozen to the runway and dented by various objects while taxiing.

Master Sgt. Carl F. Westminster, her crew chief at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base since 1958, spoils her with all kinds of extra care. He smilingly suggests he might buy her himself if she's ever retired from official duty.

And Lt. Col. George F. Moser, who's flown Zero-Six-One for hundreds of hours, thinks this description summarizes: "She doesn't fly faster than sound, but she sounds faster than she flies."

Ohio Angler, Guide Found Safe On Island

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP) — A Portage County, Ohio, fisherman and his Canadian guide have been found safe on an island between Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

Officials had feared for the safety of Ed Petrila, 37, of New Milford, Ohio, and Peter Williams of Killarney after their overturned boat was discovered Tuesday on Little Burnt Lake 50 miles southwest of here. They were found on an Indian reservation on the island later. Officials at Killarney said they did not know how they reached the island.

Canfield Pastor Cited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. J. Jeade Letts, pastor of the Canfield Methodist Church since 1950, has been named the new superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home in Berea. The Rev. Mr. Letts succeeds Dr. William H. Phillips, newly assigned as Canton District superintendent.

NOTHIN' DOWN THERE BUT DIRT. Bernie Krawiec of Main St., Wellsville, digs around the bottom of the large hole that appeared in the back yard of the home of James Ross Jr., 535 Riverside Ave., Monday night. Krawiec, son-in-law of Ross, lowered a ladder and climbed down the 16-foot-deep hole in an attempt to discover what caused it. He even dug back into the wall. No pilings, bricks or any type of building material was found. Many believe there was an old cistern in the yard at one time. The grass that had been in the yard was found at the bottom under a foot of loose soil. The hole measures about 10 to 12 feet in diameter.

Textile Local Serves Notice It Will Strike

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Union officials representing 1,700 members of Textile Workers Local 482 at Industrial Rayon Co.'s plant here have served notice their workers will strike June 25 over a new contract demands. The company, a division of the Midland-Ross Corp. of Cleveland, produces tire cord under the trade name Tyrex.

Company officials were notified of the strike date Tuesday. The old two-year pact expired at midnight Monday night. The plant employes 2,500, including office and supervisory personnel.

Final Winner Gives Report On Campaign

Last nominee to file a sworn statement of campaign expenses with the County Election Board, Dean Rose of Lisbon R. D. 5 entered a report today showing he spent $271.71 prior to the May 5 primaries, seeking the GOP nomination for Common Pleas Court clerk.

Meanwhile, George W. Crim of Bergholz, unsuccessful candidate for Republican State Central Committeeman from the 18th Congressional District, reported expenses of $464.73.

Crim ran unsuccessfully against Robert Bell of Steubenville, the incumbent, seeking the post in the five counties that comprise the Congressional District.

Friday at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful. The reports also are required of individuals or committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

State law bars the Election Board from issuing certificates of nomination to winners if they do not file the reports. Without the certificate, the nominee cannot advance to the November general election.

In addition, any candidate who fails to file a report is automatically barred from running for public office for the next five years.

The reports still are due from two unsuccessful candidates, the Election Board said. Both have been given repeated reminders of the deadline.

Board Adopts Term Budget For Midland

The Midland Board of Education approved an operating budget of $801,914 for the 1964-65 school year at a special meeting at the high school Tuesday night.

The budget, which was tentatively approved May 26, calls for an increase of $77,470 over the 1963-64 budget of $724,444.

The amount is based on a 37-mill tax rate on real estate, one mill less than the 38 mills suggested in the original budget.

In approving the budget, Edward Cilli, president, said "It is the aim of the Midland School Board to provide an educational program which is continually modernized and adapted to the needs of the community:

"To maintain suitable buildings equipped with adequate equipment, operated in an economical manner consistent with efficient management.

"To encourage professional growth of teachers, and to develop and promote among the pupils a full appreciation for the ideals of democracy."

The board authorized the secretary, Miss Bernice Coffin, to give the tax duplicate to the collector, Rudolph Presutti, for collection in four equal installments.

In other action, the board approved the appointments of Ed Olkowski, Richard Palmer and Miss Anita Maroni as instructors in the nine-week summer playground program. Each will be paid an hourly rate.

General bills in the amount of $2,516.90 were approved for payment and text, work and library books and magazines were ordered purchased for next term in the amount of $8,934.69.

Cilli presided. Next regular meeting is July 13.

Burglar Gets $400 In Coins

An East End man told police Tuesday afternoon a coin collection worth about $400 was taken from his home in a burglary sometime between 9 p. m. Monday and 9 yesterday morning.

Floyd Cramer, 1080 Maple-tree St., told officers the coins were kept in a silver - colored fishing tackle box in a cupboard in the dining room at his home. The intruder removed the coins, leaving other articles untouched, and then discarded the tackle box in a clump of bushes near the home, police said.

Cramer told Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes he did not know exactly how much money the box contained, but estimated the loss at about $400. He said the loot included $60 in so - called "Mercury" dimes wrapped in plastic tubes; $30 in old pennies; five Korean coins valued at $15; two "very old" silver dollars; two Kennedy half-dollars and assorted Canadian money.

In addition, the box contained coin cleaning solution, pen knives, a cigarette lighter and a magnifying glass, Cramer said. The miscellaneous contents were found in the discarded tackle box. Officers said the home showed no sign of forcible entry.

Johnsons Attend Dinner In Honor Of Mrs. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—President and Mrs. Johnson, accompanied by several Washington dignitaries, flew here Tuesday night and attended a dinner in honor of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The dinner at the St. Regis Hotel also was a tribute to New York area trustees of the John F. Kennedys memorial Library to be built near Harvard University.

Mrs. Kennedy sat next to Johnson at the dinner, attended by 200 guests and given by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith of New York City, the late president's brother-in-law and sister. Mrs. Johnson sat at another table.

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late president's mother, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, his brother, attended the dinner. The attorney general and Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, both of whom arrived at the hotel after Johnson, were cheered by the guests.

Actor Fredric March and actress Florence Eldridge, his wife, read some of the late president's favorite passages from Shakespeare, Irish poetry and quotations from Kennedy's inaugural address and speeches.

Because of the press of White House business, Johnson was not sure until late Tuesday whether he could make the trip.

They returned to Washington early today.

The American Voter

Ballots Cast By Intuition, Tradition, Fear

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Now the American voter enters the crisis time of a crisis year—still a bottled-up genie of strange and unknown fogs and vapors.

He is poked and prodded with quick, fever-chart interviews and primary elections — sometimes crude, sometimes sharp attempts to forecast how he will behave when summoned forth in the fall.

Yet he remains largely a matter of intuition, historical patterns and current superstition—defying everything but the most complex and deep investigations and analyses.

For 16 years he has been investigated by a battery of social researchers from the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. Their growing case history of the voter since 1948—how and why he decides—yields a remarkable lens through which to view the enigmas of 1964.

Investigators have interviewed voters extensively every two years, before and after each election.

Their picture is far from complete—but it is among the clearest available for the man who, in November, decides the politically quick and the politically dead.

Who then is this marvel of modern democracy, this true paragon of power, this complexity of opinion and ignorance, this human, this American voter?

These things seem true, said Prof. Angus Campbell, director SRC:

—Since 1952—and perhaps for 20 years before—the normal voting strength of the two parties splits each year at about 54 per cent Democratic, 46 per cent Republican. Before 1932, a year of political rebellion in a nation emerging from the depression, the voters had favored the Republican party for many years.

—The voter is not a man of issues.

—For some 75 per cent, party loyalty is important. They have pledged their allegiance by varying degrees of conviction to one party — and this prejudgment often alters what these voters perceive of the issues.

—Roughly 45 per cent have prejudged in favor of the Democratic party, 30 per cent in favor of the Republicans.

—But for a full quarter of the American population, the parties mean little and they have little interest in issues, candidates or campaigns.

—They wander along in a sort of political sleep, and often when they do vote, they decide in the last hours before they go to the polls. Their reasons do not stand critical analysis, but then neither do those of many of their party allegiant neighbors.

It won Kennedy 80 per cent of the Catholic vote — against some 70 per cent a non-Catholic Democrat might expect normally.

But the SRC analyists says it resulted in a net loss to Kennedy of something over two million votes—as projected by such answers as these to SRC interviewers:

"I'm afraid Kennedy is going to win. It's going to be close. I was raised a Democrat. I have always been a Democrat. Kennedy is smart and as far as I know he'd be all right in a lot of ways, but I hope he don't get in. If we get under the heel of the Pope, I don't know where we could go next time."

Many Democrats singled out the question of religion and dismissed it as being silly or not relevant to the election. Some Catholics thought Kennedy should play down his religion as much as possible, and one said he felt it would not only hurt Kennedy's chances, but the attitude toward Catholicism as well.

Nevertheless, one statistic that emerged from the 1960 election was that Kennedy had raised the Democratic share of the presidential vote 8 per centage points—from Adlai E. Stevenson's 42 per cent share in 1956.

Campbell concludes that the short-term forces which had been at work in 1956—and given Dwight D. Eisenhower his whopping 58 per cent of the popular vote—had not held. And many persons reverted to their original party loyalty in 1960.

But on closer look, analysts found that the 6 per cent who voted for Richard M. Nixon after voting for Stevenson in 1956 were largely Democrats who obeyed the short-term force of anti-Catholicism to switch parties.

It is another example, the SRC experts said, of short-term forces causing a vote shift in a major election among people with both strong and weak party allegiance.

There were signs in 1960 that the race situation was affecting some voters, notably in the South.

As a prime force — the kind that can decide elections — the racial attitude is one ghost behind the 1964 election.

That breakdown has remained through 16 years of SRC interviews.

Indeed, the interviewers find, most Democrats and most Republicans are not made, they are born, inheriting their political beliefs from their parents, their grandparents, there family traditions.

They change flags only under the stress of grave crisis that reaches down to touch their lives.

Listen to these voters:

A Southerner associates Republicans with the Civil War: "Back in the Civil War a great uncle of mine they took him off and killed him and left him for dogs to eat. My granddaddy, they stole everything he had—that sticks in me and it would in you too."

A 57-year-old Georgia Negro: "My parents just taught me to love the Republican party. You see I was taught that the Republican party way back yonder was responsible for slaves getting their freedom."

Others Speak Out

Here are more party allegiances:

"My father fit as a Rebel in the Civil War—taught us to hate Republicans."

"I am a dyed in the wool Democrat. I wouldn't vote Republican if I had to vote for a dog."

"We always done better when the Democratic party was in. My husband went off the soup line and 30 cents a day pay when they went in."

"When them Democrats is in, they just lets the money roll on and that's what I like."

"The Democrats always were a wet party, and I am opposed to drinking."

In sum, the interviewers find:

—That politics, candidates and issues are often on the edge of the American consciousness. They just can't compete with some other elements of American life which actively concern people.

The reason seems to be that voters are humans first, political creatures a very poor second.

SRC interviewers have found that the American is concerned first and foremost with his financial comfort and adequacy—enough money, being or becoming free from debt, having a nice home.

Inadequate Finances

Some 29 per cent cite this one reason as a prime source of happiness. The only competitive source of happiness they mention is their children.

And by far the leading cause of unhappiness expressed in the survey was inadequate finances—27 per cent of those polled cited it.

By comparison, no one cited community, national or world problems as a source of happiness in the study conducted during the H-bomb uneasiness of the 1950s. And only 13 per cent cited these broad areas as a source of unhappiness.

So, it seems, it is only when national or world issues cross the personal path of the voter—or he perceives that things in general are getting worse—that he harkens to the political call.

NEXT: Elements of prejudice.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: After I wash and dry my muslin or twill ironing board cover, I put it back on the ironing board wrong side up. Reversing it after each laundering, prolongs the wear because the side on the edge of the board from which a person irons becomes more scorched and rots faster.

MRS. VICTOR SOOTER.

Now this is about the trickiest thing I ever heard! And how true!

Besides, whether you know it or not, ironing board covers get starch embedded in them (especially if you use the spray types) and this should be washed out once in a while.

Makes for better ironing.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who want to add a decorative but inexpensive touch to any room of the house:

Start with one of the long plastic containers that you buy tomatoes in. Take some of your favorite plastic flowers and arrange them in the container (no gluing or tieing) and just twist the stems in and out around the sides of the container.

Now hang the container on the wall and you have a decorative wall plaque.

MRS. JOSEPH VARGO.

DEAR HELOISE: Sand box time is nearly here. My little girl and her friends enjoy ours very much. Instead of the usual metal toys which rust, I buy plastic funnels, measuring spoons and cups, bowls and, of course, one or two colanders for sifting. The children love them.

MRS. WHITEMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: When you need to divide a pill, fold a paper napkin several times to form a pad. Place the pill on the pad and cut across with a sharp paring knife.

The pill will not crumble or fly away!

GRACE EDMONDS.

It works! I just put my sharp paring knife on top of the pill and hit it with my hand. Divided perfectly.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Tell all mothers not to throw away those crib bumpers.

Take off the plastic and cut the foam to use as sponges! They're terrific, and what a money saver.

MOTHER OF TWINS.

DEAR HELOISE: I learned this little trick from a friend:

Babies who are too old for prepared baby vegetables, but still difficult about being fed table vegetables, will enjoy regular canned vegetable soups, undiluted and just heated.

This is easy for mama, economical (especially if the soups are bought during soup sales) and is very nutritious.

CONNIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Before placing colored drip dry clothing over my bathtub, I put a long strip of aluminum foil in the bottom of the tub.

Now I don't have to break my back scrubbing colors that stain in the tub. Besides, the foil may be used over and over.

LOIS E. KEY.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's another hint for using your nylon net. Make a drawstring bag about 18-inches-square. When returning from the market, wash all salad vegetables carefully in cold water, place them in the net bag, then take it outdoors and whirl the bag around and around.

In a few seconds the vegetables are dry and ready to put into the refrigerator. No further washing is required. It saves time and nutrients.

MRS. WM. PREUCIL.

Very sanitary, too. Nylon net has no pores. Thanks, Mrs. Preucil.

HELOISE.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Control Can Cure Mother's Screaming

Many a mother writes to find out how to stop shrieking and screaming at her children. She seems to suppose that all she needs to do is to resolve never to shriek or scream. Well, as long as these children don't obey the little word No or Don't said just once, this resolve will be useless.

Dr. Garry Myers

From New Jersey, a mother writes, "I seem to have become one of those screaming mommies with the screaming meemies.

"My five - and seven - year-old boys react quite often of late with giggles, and completely ignore my howling (about the toothpaste being squeezed all over the sink or some such misdemeanor). That is, they ignore me when they are 'cutting up' together, or one of them will sulk or pretend he doesn't hear if he's alone. I am never quite sure that they won't misbehave.

"I WANT TO GET my nerves under control and stop yelling. Can you suggest how my children and I can develop a more harmonious relationship between us? These boys deliberately cut-up at the dinner table in spite of loud orders from their father and me to behave or leave (and they have been sent away), but they continue their rambunctious ways.

"They have been harshly scolded at times (out of proportion to misdemeanors) and while I deplore this, I despair of any improvement in our relationship without some objective suggestions from outsiders."

My reply in part.

It is clear that you and your husband have not worked out effective ways for managing these boys. When they don't obey, you keep on repeating commands a little louder and shriller each time until you finally scream.

Sit down in private with your husband and try to agree on a few things these children must not do in your presence and on ways you will both use to discipline them. Strive to be consistent.

Concentrate on just a few of the most important matters first. Add more later, once these are settled.

RIGHT NOW when either of the boys misbehaves at the table in ways you reported, send each offender — without warning or threat — from the table to sit unamused for at least 30 minutes. Paddle him then only if he leaves the chair too soon. As soon as you make a few such penalties decisive you may be able to abandon paddling and use instead, for punishment, chair-sitting.

After you find you can control the boys in the few annoying situations, there should be frequent occasions when parents and boys can enjoy one another — making things for fun, playing quiet games together, singing familiar songs together, telling one another jokes, reporting funny experiences and having some of each boy's playmates there, a few at a time.

I hope Dad spends considerable time with these boys, that both of you read to them, and encourage the older one to read to the younger. Your value as parents will reveal itself in discovering ways to build on the best in these boys, celebrating their successes.

BUT FIRST YOU have to get them well under control and establish your word as dependable. Try to say no or don't as seldom as possible and then say it only once in a normal tone. When they learn to obey these words, you won't be angered enough to shout or scream.

But don't look for miracles. Be grateful as you see even slight improvement in these lads and yourselves.

Accuracy For Rockets Growing More Exact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accuracy requirements for space rocketry are growing more exact every year, according to the National Bureau of Standards, which develops standards for checking instruments used by industry to measure space vehicle parts.

Space requirements are now calling for steel gage blocks to be accurate to one 10-millionth of an inch, reports "Steelways Magazine," published by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

The magazine says an error of one-millionth of an inch in the bore hole of a missile - guiding gyroscope could result in the vehicle missing the moon by thousands of miles.

Man In Virgin Islands Pays For Parking Tag

A new "distance record" for payment of an East Liverpool parking ticket was set Tuesday when an East Liverpool man at work on a construction job in the Virgin Islands sent a $2 check to the "Meter Maid" office.

Jack D. Densmore mailed the check from St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, where he is employed on a project of the Potters Construction Co. The payment was for an overtime parking ticket which he received in February.

"Meter Maids" said they have received payments on ticket from servicemen stationed in many parts of the U. S., but Densmore's check was the first ever sent from outside the continental limits of the country.

Keep In Trim

Shopping Trip Can Spur Dieter

The biggest obstacle in the path of reducing seems to be—starting. Initial inertia is a powerful retarding force. In today's story, a jolt provided the needed incentive. A friend, asking for help in reducing, told me:

Ida Jean Kain

"While I was visiting in my home town, a friend telephoned to ask me to go shopping with her. I invited her to lunch, but she declined, commenting that she knew I served lavish fare and she wanted to stay with her new food habits, since she had reduced. Curious, I could scarcely wait for her to come by, for ever since I had known her she had been overweight, four sizes larger than I. Well, she looked marvelous. And do you know something — she now wears a size 14...and I am wearing a size 16!

—:—

"MY PROPER size is a 14, and I'm going to slim down to wear it! I've made up my mind. I want a diet that I can get my teeth into, for I put in a busy day, and if I don't eat I feel all gone. I need exercises to banish the thick look through the middle measurement."

Our model weighs 154 pounds and she is 5'5" tall, with these measurements: Bust 37½", waist 30", abdomen 38", hips 41", and thighs 24".

Her goal: To weigh 135 pounds and wear a size 14 in two and a half months. To wear a perfect size 14, our model needs to slim 4" off waist, 4" off abdomen, 3" off the hips, and 2" of the thighs.

Body measurements for size 14 are: Bust 36"; waist 26"; abdominal extension 34½"; hips 38"; thigh 22".

BY THE WAY, all those who would like to slim down one full size this summer, why not join her? She is just starting to remake her figure.

Her diet for reducing is geared to 1250 calories a day, for she has an active schedule. Her calories are divided thus: 250 for breakfast, 350 for lunch, and 450 for dinner. A mid - morning and a mid - afternoon energy boost is 100 calories each.

This diet is outlined to Eat To Build Leanness. To get this leaflet, you must send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcards cannot be answered.

Baby's Shoe And Medal Placed On Kennedy Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — A baby's shoe, a woman's glove, a religious medal, a lone flower have been placed on the hillside grave.

They rest on the sun-seared grass, along with the berets and caps of fighting men—some of from the multitude which daily moves slowly and silently past the place where John F. Kennedy is buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

The caps—the deep green beret of the Army Special forces, the standard Army green of the conventional forces, the forest green of the Marines and the Air Force blue—remain.

But each morning the tributes of the visitors are removed, packed away and sent once a week to the White House. From there they are made available to Mrs. Kennedy, who decides what should be done with them. Some presumably are set aside for the time when a Kennedy memorial is built.

An estimated three million persons have visited the grave. Only a comparative few drop mementos on the grave, but these now total hundreds or thousands.

Some of the tribute objects obviously are brought with the intention of leaving them. Others are spontaneous, like the glove removed and dropped onto the grave by a woman.

A group of pupils from a Richmond, Va., school trooped slowly past. When they were gone, attendants found a five-dollar bill. Clipped to it was a note—contributed to the Kennedy Memorial Library at Cambridge.

There are, of course, the formal floral pieces. Most of them come from organizations, from church groups, from visiting foreign statesmen or diplomatic missions.

But a child passes by and drops a single flower on the grave.

The military mementos started on the day of Kennedy's burial. A sergeant of the Army Special Forces, standing by the grave when the funeral throng was gone, removed his beret and placed it on the mound.

The other services were quick to follow the sergeant's gesture and the caps of soldiers, sailors, Marines and Air Force men joined the green beret.

Winter storms and summer sun and rain weathered the caps, then worked at the fabric. A few days before last Memorial Day, officials of the Military District of Washington decided they needed replacing. This was done.

SUMMER FUN! A smiling East End boy tries out a sliding board—with help from Margo Owen, supervisor—at the Klondyke Playground, one of 16 area playlots which began annual summer recreation programs this week. The city has appropriated $1,000 for the Klondyke lot for blacktop basketball and volley ball courts which could be used in winter for ice-skating.

Tragedy Strikes Family 4th Time

HARTFORD, Ala. (AP)—The Huey Chandlers faced a new tragedy today—the loss of a fourth child by accident.

Twins Mary and Martha, 3, burned to death in 1955 when the family's parked car caught fire. The next year, the Chandlers were notified their son Billy Gene had been killed in an automobile accident in Texas.

Tuesday, David Chandler, 18, and three friends went fishing. The boat capsized and David and Carl Williams, also 18, drowned.

The Chandlers have five surviving children.

Woman Who Hit Dog Dies Of Heart Attack

COMMACK, N.Y. (AP)—Miss Cecilia Lynch, 65, of Stony Brook, N.Y., died at the wheel of her car Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack from the shock of having struck a dog.

Witnesses told police she got out, looked at the animal, returned to the car and collapsed. The dog got up and ran away.

For Increased Revenue

Legislators Rely More On Expanded Economy

CHICAGO (AP)—State budgets are continuing to grow but this year, at least, legislators are counting more on an expanding economy for increased revenue than they are on tax boosts.

While governors of many states signed new tax laws this year — 22 legislatures were in session — the hopes were that business activity, fed partly by the federal tax cut, would surge upward for the fourth consecutive year.

There is no telling at this time precisely what impact the tax cut will have, but a year ago the Treasury Department estimated that a $10-billion federal reduction would spur investment, consumer spending and employment to a point where state and local governments would reap close to $3 billion extra in taxes.

In 20 states, according to a study by Leon Rothenberg, research director for the Federation of Tax Administrators, income tax receipts will rise automatically as a result of the federal tax cut. In these states, individuals and corporations are allowed deductions on their state income taxes based on their amount of federal income taxes. Thus, lower federal taxes mean lower deductions and higher payments to the states.

An Associated Press survey shows several states raised their income tax withholding rates to bring them in line with this windfall. Included were Massachusetts, Oregon, Alabama and Minnesota, according to information compiled by Commerce Clearing House, Inc., of Chicago, a publisher of topical business law reports.

However the added revenues are obtained, they apparently will be spent for present improvements and administration, not for past mistakes.

"Unlike some years in the past," Rothenberg said in his study, "there were few instances where taxes had to be increased because deficits had developed during the current budget period as a result of an excess of past commitments over available resources."

Education absorbs the largest portion of state budgets and where new taxes were imposed this year they were almost always for this purpose. However, mental health, highways and public assistance also will benefit from the increased revenue.

Lucas Man To Head New Vocational Board

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Hugh MacQueen, a member of the Lucas County Board of Education, has been elected president of the New PENTA County Joint Vocational Board of Education.

MacQueen was elected Monday night at the organizational meeting of the new board which will operate a joint vocational school being established at the old Rossford Army Depot.

Seventeen school districts from five counties—Lucas, Wood, Ottawa, Fulton and Sandusky—are taking part in the joint effort.

Others elected were John Kurfess, a member of the Wood County Board of Education, vice president, and Mrs. Bernice Baughman, clerk - treasurer of the Rossford Board, temporary clerk.

Methodist Area Asked To End Segregation

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) —The North Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church, which embraces conferences in nine states including Ohio, has been called upon to end segregation in Methodist congregations in the north central states.

The plan, which could become effective this year if approved throughout the jurisdiction, was approved Tuesday by the North Iowa Methodist Conference and calls for taking in the Negro Lexington Conference.

Jerry Lucas Will Address Boys State

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A one-time student politician who made good in the sports world, Jerry Lucas, was scheduled to address the 1,309 citizens of the 1964 Buckeye Boys State tonight.

Lucas, three-time All-America at Ohio State and this year's National Basketball Association rookie of the year with the Cincinnati Royals, participated in the American Legion's citizenship project when he when he was a student at Middletown High School.

During Tuesday's activity on the Ohio University campus, Boys State Gov. Gregory McKenzie of Cincinnati announced that operating costs of Boys State have been trimmed $23 million below 1963's budget.

In a "state of the state" message to a joint session of the General Assembly, McKenzie urged the high school legislators to accept his budget and pass the general appropriations bill speedily.

Barton (Skip) Blair of Mount Vernon was named president of the Bar Association and Robert Wright of Mount Sterling and Chris Greathouse of Cleveland were named secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Members of the legislature and the hundreds of boys who passed the bar examination received the oath of office from Supreme Court Chief Justice James Vanzant of Bainbridge.

The BBS Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized Tuesday with Curtis Wagner and Bill Stephens of Mentor the president and secretary, respectively.

Dear friends,

A change of residence may prevent a family from caring for a cemetery plot as they would wish to do. This neglect can be avoided by providing for 'perpetual care' at the time of purchase, or perhaps when the need arises.

Some cemeteries include this service in the price of the grave or plot. Others charge a nominal yearly fee or stipulate a small trust fund to provide funds for care of the grave.

Respectfully,
Harry L. Martin

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: It's been two years since my husband started to paint our four rooms. The living room is a disgrace. The old paint is peeling off and he has one wall partially scraped but he still hasn't put a brush to it.

After hours of nagging (which didn't help) I said, "Rich, it's plain to see you don't care much about painting so why don't you repair the broken window on the back porch?" He replied, "You are nothing but a nag. I'll do it when I'm in the mood. Leave me alone."

Tell me, Ann Landers, how can I get my husband to accept his responsibilities in the house? We haven't entertained for two years because I'm ashamed of the way our place looks. Help, please. — D. FEATED.

Dear D.: In the same way that some children become "mother - deaf" some husbands become "wife-deaf." So get smart and save your pipes, Lady.

Quit nagging and hire the work done. Some husbands decide, after paying some outrageous bills for work they could have done themselves, that they can't afford the luxury of procrastination.

Trail—er Winding

Dear Ann: Our 16 - year - old daughter has been nagging us for two months and my head is beginning to ache from listening to her.

Will you please print this letter and your answer? It will close the subject so far as I'm concerned.

Jeanette wants permission to take a three-week trailer trip with her 17-year-old boy friend and his parents. They plan to go to the Black Hills and then out to Yellowstone Park. Jeanette never has been to these places and insists if we deprive her of the trip she will have lost a great opportunity for education.

She keeps telling us that she is insulted because we don't trust her. She further points out that Bill's parents will be chaperoning them every minute and therefore it would be perfectly proper.

My husband is dead set against it. I'm undecided. Jeanette's arguments sound logical and I'd hate for her to miss this fine opportunity to see the country, at no cost. Your opinion is wanted. — MOTHER MACREE.

Dear Macree: A 16-year-old girl and a 17-year-old boy should not be taking a trip together — in a trailer yet — even if they are chaperoned by the boy's parents.

Continuous exposure to one another's presence is much too stimulating for teen-agers. What you consider a "no-cost" trip could turn out to be mighty expensive.

Nose Out Of Joint

Dear Ann: The world will not rise or fall on your answer but I would like to know what you think of the following:

A friend of mine has a habit of introducing her domestic help to any guest who walks into her home. I happen to know Emma, the housekeeper, because I've been seeing her for about 15 years. I don't mind when Emma speaks to me.

Last week I took my new daughter-in-law over there and this friend introduced her to Emma, as if she were a social equal.

My daughter-in-law was pleasant but I was annoyed by the poor manners of the hostess. comment, please — BING HAMPTON.

Dear Bing: Your nose is caught on a skyhook, Sister.

The hostess committed no social error whatever when acknowledging Emma's presence, which demonstrates tes good manners, plus a degree of self-assurance which you obviously lack.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By Jove, It Looked Like A Taxicab

A city police patrol car appeared. The Englishman ran into the street and started waving his arms frantically.

The patrol car stopped. The Englishman ran to the car, opened the rear door and sat down in the back seat

Moments later he climbed out and the patrol car departed.

"I had called a taxi, and when I saw this car with the light on top coming down the street, I thought it was my taxi," he explained in a clipped British accent.

"I jumped in the back seat and told the driver to take me to the airport. He told me he was a policeman, not a cab driver.

"By jove — it looked like a taxicab."

Ohio Woman, 42, Charged In Fatal Stabbing Of Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 42 year old woman has been charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of her former boyfriend, according to police.

The woman was identified as Foncile Young. She was charged Tuesday night a few hours after a detective shot to death a 26-year-old registered felon who was attempting to escape after being arrested for questioning in the stabbing.

The stabbing victim was Larry Clifford, 29, of Columbus. He was found with 11 knife wounds in his body Monday night in front of his home. He died shortly after being taken to a hospital.

Police said detectives Lloyd Morgan and James Frost arrested John Joseph Bellony at his apartment last night to question him in the slaying.

They were leading him down the stairs of the apartment house when he broke away, ran out the door and down the street.

The detectives chased Bellony through alleys and backyards before Morgan shot him fatally.

According to recent studies, today's college students are racking up grades of from three to 10 points higher than did their parents.

NEVER TOO YOUNG TO LEARN

Toys have a place learns three-year-old Patricia Cozma and stairs are not it. To her father, John, this is a safety lesson that Patricia's not too young to learn. Items left carelessly on stairways and in passage areas cause thousands of unnecessary home accidents each year.

John knows this can be true at work as well. That's why in his department, the Bar Mill, as in every department at Midland works, employes are urged to practice good housekeeping, a primary rule of safety. Accidents are prevented by thinking safety and working safely.

Schedule Is Full One

In The Social Swim?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If you plan to stay in the social swim, now is the time to start planning your activities for the second half of the year.

The schedule is a full one.

Still to be observed this month are Father's Day, National Bow Tie Week, a total eclipse of the moon, and Save Your City Week.

July begins, not inappropriately, with a festival for "the most famous citizen" of Bridgeport, Conn., the late Phineas T. Barnum, who once cautiously observed, "There's a sucker born every minute."

You may also want to take some part in National Hot Dog and National Odor Control Month, Let's Play Tennis Week and ceremonies honoring D. L. L. Zamenhof, whose claim to fame is that he founded Esperanto, the second international language. The first international language was money.

Coming up in August are National Clown Week, National Sandwich Month, the anniversary of the arrival of Ponce de Leon in Puerto Rico, and the birthdays of Herbert Hoover, Benjamin Harrison and Huey P. Long. Perhaps you'd also better make a memo now to play a tune for National Accordion Week

September promises to be a 30-day reign of joy. It is Youth Month, Home Quiet Month, Home Sweet Home Month, National Better Breakfast Month, National Flapjack Month and—don't overlook this one—Measure Your Mattress Month.

Also noteworthy in September are National Dog Week, National Sweater Week, National Fireplace Week, and National Barefoot Freedom Week.

We don't know your plans for October, but we're concentrating on Be Kind to Customers Month, National Save the Horse Week, National Honey, Popcorn and Wine weeks, International Whale Watching Week, and World Poetry Day. These, we feel, will keep us from going to Huntsville, Ark., for the National Crossbow Tournament.

In November we have National Raisin Bread Month, Warren G. Harding's birthday, National Dish Cloth Month, Asparagus Week, Holidays Are Pickle Days, National Indigestion Week, and National Prosperity Week.

Naturally, Christmas shopping will keep you pretty busy during most of December, but you might put a red pencil mark under Dec. 21. That'll remind you not to forget National Flashlight and Battery Inspection Day.

One last event on the calendar you may want to skip — a peculiar custom traditionally observed on Dec. 31 in Japan. That is the day when Japanese pay up all their bills so they can start the new year free from debt.

The idea has never caught on in this country.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP) — A two-car collision at an intersection eight miles northwest of here has resulted in the death of Edgar Patton, 51, of Rt. 3, Wellington. Patton died in Community Hospital Monday night of injuries suffered Sunday when his car and one driven by Larry Corfman, 22, of Sycamore collided.

AP Resumes Its Defense In Libel Suit

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Associated Press resumes today defense testimony in a $2-million libel suit brought by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker. Three witnesses for the news association were heard Tuesday.

A jury of four women and eight men in Dist. Judge Charles Murray's courtroom are trying to decide whether The AP libeled Walker in news stories two years ago out of Oxford, Miss. These involved a segregationist riot Sept. 30, 1962, on the University of Mississippi campus.

Walker, 54, charged that he falsely was reported as leading a charge of student rioters against U.S. marshals, on duty on the campus to insure the entrance to the university of Negro James H. Meredith.

The AP opened its defense on Tuesday and among the witnesses was Craig Ellis, 26, a United Press International newsman who was on the Ole Miss campus during the riots as a reporter for the Nashville Banner.

Craig testified that Walker made a speech to students from a Confederate monument on the campus, and added that when it ended:

"He stood where he was for a short period of time, then turned left and stepped down from the monument. He took several steps up the walk by himself. I recall that one or maybe two men caught up with him. These two or three, including Gen. Walker, moved 10 or 12 feet up the sidewalk.

"About that time the people listening to him moved behind him and then a solid line formed behind the general."

Put 10 Children Through College

Man, 72, To Graduate From High School Today

He is a little late getting his diploma because he had to put all 10 of his sons and daughters through college first.

Elmore financed that massive task with a series of odd jobs, over a period of 26 years.

The last one finished college seven years ago. "Then I figured it was my turn," the tall, proud father said Tuesday in an interview.

Two of his 10 children will be on hand when Elmore steps down the aisle in cap and gown at David Starr Jordan High School in nearby Watts to receive the certificate he earned in four years of night classes.

William Warden, principal of Jordan's adult high school, said:

"This is a tremendous man and a wonderful student. He is an outstanding public speaker, and last year he delivered the graduation benediction even though he wasn't graduating. So this year we gave him that assignment again. Everyone is so happy for him."

All of Elmore's seven daughters and three sons got good jobs in a variety of fields. Five became teachers, two nurses. One of the teachers died six years ago.

One son is a biologist, one a musician. One of the nurses is now a graduate student, pursuing a master's degree in nursing administration. They range in age from 27 to 43.

"Every one of them wanted to go to college and every one worked to help me put them through," Elmore said. "Each earned at least $10 a month while going to school, most of them more. I did anything and everything I could to make an honest dollar.

"It wasn't easy, specially during the depression. But I have no regrets. I'd do it all over again."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Chet Huntley Takes Inventory

Television's courage in the field of news documentaries and commentary has improved if we measure it by Chet Huntley's experience at NBC.

Hal Humphrey

Ten years ago as a newscaster in Los Angeles, Chet was a constant target of organized letter campaigns and phone calls. One sponsor dropped him ("too controversial"), and the pressure groups chased him from one radio station.

Chet managed to survive this verbal lynch attempt by the extremists (he won a lawsuit from one person who tagged him a Commie), and in 1955 the NBC-TV network took him to New York where he soon succeeded John Cameron Swayze on a nightly 15-minute network telecast.

"THE SAME GROUP followed me to New York with their letters and smears, but finally they gave up on me. Oh, once in a great while one of them takes a pot shot, but NBC's chief legal counsel always says to me, 'Don't pay any attention,' and I don't says Chet.

"I've never once had any pressure from NBC, a fact I consider rather remarkable, because the parent company, RCA, has lots of defense contracts, and that makes NBC vulnerable," he adds.

Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, top man at RCA, came across Chet at a New York party not long ago and said, "You draw the damnedest mail, Chet." Slightly taken back, Chet replied that he was sorry if it was causing anyone discomfort.

"Don't be sorry," said the reassuring Sarnoff, who had obviously meant to be complimentary.

CHET'S ONLY REGRET about his experience in Los Angeles a decade ago is that he apparently made so little impression on the people he was trying to convince.

"I wanted to wake up the Old Guard and let them know the bucolic days were ending, that we had lost our invincibility and it was time to become dynamic again.

"I didn't say it well, I guess, so they didn't listen. Now the extremists and crackpots have coalesced and infiltrated the Republican ranks, much as the Communists did in the Democratic party in the '30s," adds Chet.

Like many other observers of the political scene now, Chet maintains that Sen. Barry Goldwater is not a spokesman for the genuine conservative attitude. He says Goldwater is a captive of the extremists and draws analogy between the Arizona senator and Henry Wallace when the latter ran on the so-called Progressive ticket for president in 1948.

"There is no reason," Chet emphasizes, "for us to equivocate with anyone who calls former President Eisenhower a Communist. And I don't accept the answer of Birchers who say it is only their leader who does this.

"THEY REMIND ME of the complaint I received from the Egyptian embassy. I had quoted one of their spokesmen who talked of 'driving Israelites into the sea' during a speech.

"When I insisted the quote was correct, the embassy man calling me replied, 'Oh, yes, the quote was correct, but it is only our propaganda, and you cannot hold us to that.' "

As a newsman of long experience, Chet feels qualified to differentiate between a man's words and his intent.

Both Chet and his TV news mate, David Brinkley, are braced for more of what the senior Sarnoff refers to as "damnedest mail" from now until the November election.

And Chet agrees with David who says that when a viewer writes in to accuse them of being "biased," it means "we are not biased on HIS side."

Man Marks His 102nd Birthday, Wife 100th

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota's senior citizens, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Sholberg, will be looking over scores of greeting cards today as a reminder of what that fuss was all about.

Sholberg had his 102nd birthday and his wife her 100th Tuesday.

Their daughter, Miss Clara Sholberg, said her parents received scores of letters and cards, "but they haven't had time to look at any of them." One of the messages came from President Johnson.

There was an all-day open house for the couple, who emigrated from Norway in the 1870s. They were married in 1886. All their eight children were here for the festivities.

Lost Homing Pigeons Roosting On Motel

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—An Atlanta motel operator is being overrun with lost homing pigeons.

It wasn't so bad at first with only one on the premises. But now there are six and more coming.

Margareta Gamma knows they're homing pigeons because some of them have tags on their legs.

The pigeons may be lost but they haven't lost their wits. They're roosting on the kitchen.

Six Korean Writers Due Military Trial

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Six South Korean journalists arrested earlier this month during riotous antigovernment demonstrations have been referred to army prosecutors for possible military trial.

The martial law command also announced indictment of three student leaders of the demonstrations on insurrection charges. If convicted, they could get the death penalty.

The command said the newsmen were being held on suspicion of giving aid to Communists, agitating insurrection, spreading malicious falsehoods about the government and reporting an illegal assembly.

The six face maximum sentences of 15 years.

Locality In Virginia To Integrate Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Giles County next fall will become the first Virginia locality to eliminate segregated schools.

The State Pupil Placement Board Tuesday assigned all 131 Negro pupils in the county to two white schools. The county school board had planned to close the two Negro schools. Giles has a total school enrollment of about 4,500.

The placement board also assigned about 410 other Negro pupils to all-white or predominantly white schools in Virginia. The assignments will mean the first school desegregation in 11 localities.

Half of Virginia's school districts have some desegregation.

Junior Editors Quiz on PYRAMIDS

QUESTION: How did they build the pyramids?

ANSWER: The ancient Egyptian pyramids served as royal tombs. Rulers built them hoping to preserve their bodies forever—a vain hope, as robbers afterwards broke into them. In spite of that, however, the pyramids are as impressive and awe inspiring as any structures made by man. The secret of how they were built is not exactly known, but our picture shows a method which many experts think may have been used. The "Great Pyramid," near Cairo, erected about 2600 B.C., is built of limestone blocks each weighing 2½ tons. It is recorded that 100,000 slaves worked for 20 years to build it. According to the theory shown in the picture, layers of these blocks were laid down, each one slightly smaller than the one below (shown in black in 2).

To carry the blocks up, a ramp was built (1) which spiraled around the structure, both ramp and inner structure being built as the pyramid rose up. Crews of slaves pulled the blocks up the ramp on sledges. Logs were embedded in the ramp to lessen the friction. When the top was reached, the ramp was removed as the workers came down and the steps of the layers were filled in at the same time.

FOR YOU TO DO: Test your drawing ability by trying a free hand sketch of a pyramid, making it as accurate as you can. Then take a bit of paper and check the distance across the bottom and see if this is the same as from the outer edges to the top.
